

Byrne Discretionary Community Project Funding/Byrne Discretionary Grants Program Frequently Asked Questions

March 2023

This Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) document pertains to the Byrne Discretionary Community Project Funding/Byrne Discretionary Grants Program. Projects designated for funding under this heading were included in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022 (Public Law 117-103) and in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2023 (Public Law 117-328). A previous version of this FAQs document pertaining only to the FY 2022 program has been archived.

Awards under this program are administered by different program offices under the Office of Justice Programs (OJP), depending on the topic area. The information provided in these FAQs is relevant to all awards made under this program regardless of which program office will administer the award. Applicants/recipients should refer to the program office that sent you the Invitation to Apply or that issued your award for any questions not addressed in this document.

General Information

1. What is the purpose of the Byrne Discretionary Community Project Funding/Byrne Discretionary Grants Program (Byrne Discretionary)?

The purpose of Byrne Discretionary is to provide funding for specific community projects designated for funding in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022 (Public Law 117-103) and in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2023 (Public Law 117-328) to improve the functioning of the criminal justice system, to prevent or combat juvenile delinquency, and to assist victims of crime (other than compensation). Funding shall be used for the projects, and in the amounts, specified under the heading “Byrne Discretionary Community Project Grants/Byrne Discretionary Grants” in each Joint Explanatory Statement (JES), which are incorporated by reference into Public Law 117-103 and Public Law 117-328, respectively.

Eligible applicants/recipients of FY 2022 and/or FY 2023 Byrne Discretionary funding should refer to the solicitation under which they applied, or will apply, to receive funding.

2. How much funding is available under Byrne Discretionary?

The total amount of funding available differs by fiscal year, and it is listed in the solicitation or the links in the Appendix. Grant awards will only be made in the amount designated for funding for each authorized project.

Eligibility and Award Amounts

3. Who is eligible to apply for Byrne Discretionary funds?

Only those nonfederal entities (NFEs) listed as recipients of funding under the “Byrne Discretionary Community Project Grants/Byrne Discretionary Grants” in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement are eligible to apply for an award under this program. The list of eligible recipients/projects is provided as an Appendix to this document along with which OJP office will administer the grant. The legal name (or “doing business as” name) associated with the applicant’s unique entity identifier (UEI) as registered in the System of Award Management (SAM) must coincide with the recipient listed in the JES. See the Application Submission section and solicitation for more information.

4. How were Byrne Discretionary award amounts determined?

The Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement designates a specific amount of funding for each project, and OJP will only issue grant awards for each project in the amount specified.

5. Our organization is not listed as a recipient in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement. Can we still apply for funding under this program?

No. OJP will not issue awards to any NFE not specifically designated in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement.

6. Our organization is listed as a recipient in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement, but we would like to transfer the award to another organization (e.g., a project partner). Can our designated project partner or delegated organization apply for funding under this program instead of us?

No. OJP will not issue awards to any NFE not specifically designated in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement. Recipients can issue subawards to other entities if necessary for completion of the project designated for funding.

7. Our organization is listed as a recipient authorized by Congress, but we no longer have a need for funding the specific project listed. Can we apply for funding under this solicitation for a different project instead?

No. OJP will only issue awards for the projects and in the amounts specified in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement. Further, OJP cannot approve any changes to the purpose of the project.

Application Submission

8. When are Byrne Discretionary applications due?

Eligible Byrne Discretionary applicants will be sent an invitation to apply for funding with a link to the solicitation. Please refer to the solicitation under which you were invited to apply for specific deadlines. Recipients should make sure to submit the application to the correct solicitation based on which OJP office will administer its award.

9. Will OJP be providing any extensions to the application deadlines?

OJP encourages all eligible applicants to submit their Byrne Discretionary applications as soon as possible after the solicitation is released, but prior to the listed grants.gov and JustGrants deadlines, to ensure timely awards. If certain project details are incomplete or estimates, this can be noted in the proposal narrative or budget, and OJP can obtain additional information post-award.

10. How do I apply for a Byrne Discretionary grant?

Please refer to and carefully follow the instructions for submitting an application detailed in the “Invited to Apply – Byrne Discretionary Community Project Grants/Byrne Discretionary Grants Program” solicitation, which was sent to you by the OJP agency that will be administering your award. The solicitation includes detailed information on how to register in SAM, apply in grants.gov, and complete the full application in JustGrants, along with links to resources for the same.

11. Can I use a different project title when I apply for a Byrne Discretionary grant?

No. Per the instructions in the solicitation, you must enter the project title in the SF-424 form and in JustGrants as it appears in the Joint Explanatory Statement. Further, you will not be permitted to change the project title after an award has been made.

12. What is the period of performance for Byrne Discretionary grants, and must I expend all funds by the end of the federal fiscal year for which funding was enacted?

There is no requirement to expend funds by the end of the federal fiscal year. OJP will issue the award with a project start date the same as the date the Consolidated Appropriations Act was enacted, unless a later start date is requested. If you request a later start date, the start date must be the first day of a month and cannot be later than October 1 of the next federal fiscal year. Note that pre-award costs (costs incurred prior to the start date) are generally not allowable.

OJP will issue awards with 12-month project periods, but applicants can request up to a 48-month project period. You would enter a project end date in both the SF-424 and application to correspond to the start date and requested project period.

Costs incurred on/after the project start date, but prior to issuance of an award and approval of the project budget by OJP, may be reimbursed, but are incurred at the applicant's own risk, as authorized costs will be limited to those approved by OJP.

13. What is OJP's timeline for application processing and issuance of awards?

OJP will expedite the review and approval of Byrne Discretionary applications. We anticipate issuing award notifications by September 30, but will prioritize issuing awards on a rolling basis as soon as possible.

14. Once awards are made, how quickly will funds be available for use by recipients?

Recipients will have access to grant funds upon the completion of Award Acceptance in JustGrants, completion of registering in the Automated Standard Application for Payments \(ASAP\) system, and providing additional documentation needed for any award conditions that may withhold funds. Your assigned OJP grant manager can assist you with addressing any withholding conditions, such as for budget approval.

Allowable Costs and Related Administrative Requirements

15. Are Byrne Discretionary funds limited to only the projects approved by Congress?

Yes. As noted above, OJP will only issue awards to fund the specific projects identified in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement (incorporated by reference into the appropriation). Further, OJP cannot approve a change to the purpose of a grant or project title.

16. Are Byrne Discretionary funds limited to the specific costs in the budget I submitted to Congress when I requested the appropriation for our community project?

You are not necessarily limited to the specific costs or the budget you submitted to Congress, as the full details of your request to Congress were not incorporated into the public law; however, the costs must support the project as appropriated in the law and cannot exceed the amount appropriated. All costs must be reasonable and allowable.

17. Can I use Byrne Discretionary grant funds for any costs I want for the project authorized by Congress?

No. As these awards will be made as federal grants, the administrative requirements for grants in the Uniform Requirements, Title 2 C.F.R. Part 200 will apply. Further, you are also required to follow the DOJ Grants Financial Guide. This includes the requirements related to allowable costs. Accordingly, OJP must approve the project budget before grant funds can be expended or drawn down.

18. Are other costs unallowable under Byrne Discretionary in addition to the unallowable costs listed in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide and 2 C.F.R. Part 200?

Yes. Per the solicitation:

No funds provided under this program may be used, directly or indirectly, to provide any security enhancements or any equipment to any nongovernmental entity that is not engaged in criminal justice or public safety.

Absent sufficiently specific authorization in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, the use of OJP grant funds for unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), including unmanned aircraft vehicles (UAV), and all accompanying accessories to support UAS or UAV, is unallowable.

In addition to the unallowable costs identified in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide, award funds may not be used for the following:

- Rewards, entertainment, prizes, trinkets, or any other monetary incentives
- Client/participant stipends
- Gift cards
- Food and beverage.

19. What are some examples of allowable costs under Byrne Discretionary?

Given the wide variety of criminal justice projects authorized by law, specific costs for each project will vary. Depending on the nature of the project, grant funds could, by way of example and not limitation, be used for project staff salaries and fringe benefits, supplies or equipment purchases, travel costs, subawards to other agencies delegated to complete part of the project, and/or procurement contracts for goods or services needed for the project. This list of general costs is not exhaustive. Applicants should develop budgets consistent with their project needs and within the guidelines of allowability discussed above. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for instructions on the application budget.

20. Our authorized Byrne Discretionary project involves a research and/or evaluation component. What should I know about OJP's requirements related to research and evaluation?

At a minimum, you should consult the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide and the links therein related to DOJ's requirements related to research.

21. Our authorized Byrne Discretionary project involves a conference/meeting/training. What should I know about OJP's requirements related to using grant funds for these events?

At a minimum, you should consult the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide and the links therein related to DOJ's requirements related to conferences/meetings/trainings.

22. Our authorized Byrne Discretionary project involves construction (including expansion, renovation, facility planning, site selection, site preparation, and security or facility upgrades) and/or chemicals (for forensics use). What should I know about OJP's requirements related to using grant funds for these projects?

Projects involving construction or chemicals may require additional approvals and actions to comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). The OJP NEPA web page has additional information. Construction projects may also have to comply with "Buy American" laws and regulations, and will have requirements for reporting on continuing use of the real property, in accordance with 2 C.F.R. 200.330.

23. Our authorized Byrne Discretionary project involves using funds to pay another entity for goods or services necessary for the project. Should this cost be classified as a subaward or a procurement contract in the budget?

See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide and the links therein related to the important distinction between subawards and procurement contracts and the administrative requirements for each.

24. Are there any specific requirements for body-worn camera (BWC) purchases?

Yes. Any agency that purchases BWCs must have BWC policies and procedures in place that, at a minimum, reinforce appropriate agency use-of-force policies and training and address technology usage, evidence acquisition, data storage and retention, as well as privacy issues, accountability, and discipline. You do not need to submit the policies and procedures to OJP for review or approval, but you must make them available upon request.

BJA offers a Body-Worn Camera Toolkit to serve as a comprehensive clearinghouse for criminal justice practitioners interested in planning and implementing a BWC program in an effort to improve officer and community safety.

25. Can Byrne Discretionary funds be used to purchase Rapid DNA instruments?

Byrne Discretionary funds may be used to support Rapid DNA projects only if within the scope of the authorized project. The award agreement will have conditions related to the appropriate use of the Rapid DNA instrument, consistent with guidance from the FBI, which may include withholding funds until a Rapid DNA certification is received from the recipient.

Recipients of funding for Rapid DNA projects should consult with their OJP grant manager regarding any questions about the requirements for using Rapid DNA prior to incurring costs.

26. Does the requirement for full and open competition for procurement contracts apply under Byrne Discretionary, and how do I request a sole source contract?

The competitive requirements outlined in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide and 2 C.F.R. 200.320 apply to Byrne Discretionary, except for states/territories which must follow their own procurement policies. Noncompetitive (i.e., sole source) contracts above the simplified acquisition threshold, which is currently $250,000, require prior approval by OJP before recipients (other than states/territories) may execute the contract. See the DOJ Grants Financial Guide for the required criteria and how to submit this request.

27. Are indirect costs allowable, and is there a limit on indirect costs charged to the grant?

Indirect costs are allowable if the recipient has a current negotiated indirect cost rate agreement approved by its cognizant federal agency or if the recipient is eligible to use, and elects to use, the "de minimis" indirect cost rate as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.414\(f\). The only limits on indirect costs charged to the grant would be not exceeding the approved or de minimis rate or incorrectly applying it to the direct cost base.

28. Are there any limitations on direct administrative costs?

No. But all costs must be reasonable and necessary for the performance of the federal award.

29. Are matching funds required under the Byrne Discretionary program?

No. There is no match requirement under Byrne Discretionary. If applicants voluntarily include matching costs in their budget and OJP approves the budget, the matching costs will be mandatory and subject to audit. OJP recommends not including any match costs in the Byrne Discretionary application budget, although the proposal narrative can include discussion on local funds that you will be contributing.

30. What is supplanting and is it allowable under Byrne Discretionary?

See the definition of supplanting in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide. Supplanting is prohibited under Byrne Discretionary for all allowable costs.

31. Can Byrne Discretionary funds be drawn down in advance without limitation?

No. Under this program, recipients must only draw down funds in advance for no more than 10 days of their cash needs as detailed in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide. There are no limitations for drawing down on a reimbursement basis (i.e., not in advance).

32. When OJP approves the budget for my Byrne Discretionary grant, does that mean all of the costs have received final approval including those costs identified as requiring prior approval in the Financial Guide?

No. In general, costs requiring prior approval must be approved in a separate process, and budget approval (“clearance”) does not constitute approval of such costs even if they are listed in the budget. Requests for costs requiring prior approval must be submitted as a grant award modification (GAM) in JustGrants. For example, a request for a consultant rate agreement higher than the OJP established threshold requires a separate GAM approval prior to entering into an agreement. Similarly, a noncompetitive procurement contract (“sole source”) over the simplified acquisition threshold must be approved by OJP before entering into the contract. The exception to this would be subaward(s) included in your application; for these, issuance of an award and approval of budget is considered approval of the subawards(s).

See the DOJ Grants Financial Guide for more information. The assigned OJP grant manager for your award will be able to provide additional guidance.

Post-Award Requirements

33. What are the reporting requirements for Byrne Discretionary grants?

Recipients are required to submit quarterly federal financial reports \(SF-425\) and semi-annual performance reports in JustGrants.

Recipients of Byrne Discretionary grants in the amount of $30,000 or more must comply with applicable requirements to report first-tier subawards ("subgrants") of $30,000 or more and, in certain circumstances, to report the names and total compensation of the recipient's five most highly compensated executives and first tier subrecipients (first tier "subgrantees") of award funds. The details of recipient obligations, which derive from the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006 (FFATA), are posted under Award Condition: Reporting Subawards and Executive Compensation on the OJP website.

34. Are there training requirements for Byrne Discretionary grants?

Yes. The individuals assigned in JustGrants as the Grant Award Administrator and the Financial Manager for the grant award must have successfully completed an OJP financial management and grant administration training within 120 days after the date of the recipient's acceptance of the award. The assigned OJP grant manager for your award can provide additional information on this requirement.

35. Can I request changes to my Byrne Discretionary grant?

Yes, with the exception of requests to change the purpose of the project or the project title as designated in the Congressional Joint Explanatory Statement. Changes to the budget, project scope, and project period can be requested consistent with OJP's requirements and limitations detailed in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide. Recipients may request a one-time project period extension of up to 12 months.

Requests for most changes must be submitted via grant award modification \(GAM\) in JustGrants. The assigned OJP grant manager for your award can provide additional information.

36. What actions must I take when my Byrne Discretionary grant project is complete?

When a grant project is complete, the recipient has certain requirements for the closeout phase, which are detailed in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide and JustGrants closeout training resources.
