This program furthers the DOJ’s mission to ensure public safety and provide federal leadership in preventing and controlling crime. It also supports OJP’s mission to provide leadership, resources, and solutions for creating safe, just, and engaged communities.

This solicitation incorporates the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide by reference. The OJP Grant Application Resource Guide provides guidance to applicants to prepare and submit applications to OJP for funding. If this solicitation expressly modifies any provision in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide, the applicant is to follow the guidelines in this solicitation as to that provision.

To become certified, the law enforcement agency must meet two mandatory conditions: (1) the agency’s use-of-force policies adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and (2) the agency’s use-of-force policies prohibit chokeholds except in situations where use of deadly force is allowed by law. The certification requirement also applies to law enforcement agencies receiving DOJ discretionary grant funding through a subaward. For detailed information on this certification requirement, please visit https://cops.usdoj.gov/SafePolicingEO to access the Standards for Certification on Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Implementation Fact Sheet, and the List of Designated Independent Credentialing Bodies.

All recipients and subrecipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee.

Program Description

Overview

OJP is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community. OJP’s Community Based Violence Intervention and Prevention Initiative (CVIPI) seeks to prevent and reduce violent crime in communities by supporting comprehensive, evidence-based violence intervention and prevention programs, including efforts to address gang and gun violence, based on partnerships among community residents, local government agencies, victim service providers, community-based organizations (CBOs), law enforcement, hospitals, researchers, and other community stakeholders.

BJA is administering OJP’s CVIPI, working in partnership with the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) and the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC). This collaborative approach will help ensure jurisdictions have access to the expertise to address community violence that involves children, youth, young adults, and adults, both as the individuals responsible for perpetrating this violence and those who are victims of it. As appropriate, awards made under this solicitation may be managed by BJA, OJJDP, or OVC depending on the nature of the funded project.

Statutory Authority

Any awards under this solicitation would be made under statutory authority provided by the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022, Pub. L. No. 117-103, 136 Stat. 49, 127.

Specific Information

In May 2021, the Department of Justice released its Comprehensive Strategy for Reducing Violent Crime. One of the features of this strategy is its focus on the benefits of investing in community-based violence prevention and intervention programs, as well as the importance of approaches that intervene to break patterns of violence in the lives of those individuals at the highest risk of engaging in or becoming victims of violence. These intervention approaches, generally carried out by community-based organizations and local government partners, are recognized in DOJ’s strategy as highly effective complements to the enforcement of criminal laws. In June 2021, the Biden-Harris Administration outlined a comprehensive strategy to combat gun violence and other violent crime, which also featured community violence intervention programs as a key element of local strategies.

Community violence intervention (CVI) is an approach that uses evidence-informed strategies to reduce violence through tailored, community-centered initiatives. These multidisciplinary strategies engage individuals and groups to prevent and disrupt cycles of violence and retaliation and establish relationships between individuals and community assets to deliver services that save lives, address trauma, provide opportunity, and improve the physical, social, and economic conditions that drive violence. Community violence generally happens outside the home in public spaces. Most community violence involves a relatively small number of people—whether youth or adult—as those who carry out violence or become its victims. This violence affects entire communities, thereby eroding public health, causing economic disruption, and contributing to lasting individual and community traumas. The physical conditions and lack of resources in the community can also increase the risk for this violence to occur, so strategies that bolster community resources and improve community conditions should be considered to support CVI strategies.

There are a variety of community violence intervention strategies for reducing gun violence by means other than arrest or incarceration. These strategies typically focus on high risk individuals and gang and gun violence as well as the historical and structural challenges that often contribute to community violence. CVI strategies should involve holistic, coordinated interventions attending to the multiple needs of individuals at high risk of gang and gun violence. For example, hospital-based violence intervention programs use credible messengers to connect with victims of gun violence while they are still in the hospital, and then wraparound services are typically deployed such as behavioral health supports, employment access, housing advocacy, and family supports. For more examples of CVI strategies, visit: https://bja.ojp.gov/doc/cvi-implementation-checklist.pdf.

OJP is seeking applications that propose to introduce evidence-informed CVI strategies in communities as well as applications that propose expanded or innovative CVI approaches. “Evidence-informed” indicates a practice backed by evidence from research and evaluation, case studies, expert opinions, or documented lessons learned from the field. This evidence may be applicable to the practice itself or the community violence problem that the practice is intended to address. An “expanded approach” proposes a new modification to or an increase in the reach of an existing CVI strategy or response, whereas an “innovative approach” is one that has not been implemented previously in any jurisdiction. In all cases, OJP strongly encourages the development of practitioner–researcher partnerships that use data and evidence to create strategies, target services, and assess program performance on an ongoing basis to ensure that programs are implemented as intended, effective, and economical.

Projects funded under this initiative are expected to contribute to the body of knowledge on effective CVI practices and programs.

OJP strongly encourages applications to be trauma responsive and incorporate the needs and perspectives of victims of community violence. A trauma-responsive program, organization, or system realizes the widespread impact of trauma and understands potential paths for recovery; recognizes the signs and symptoms of trauma in clients, families, staff, and others involved with the criminal legal system; and responds by fully integrating knowledge about trauma into policies, procedures, and practices. It seeks to actively prevent re-traumatization and to reduce trauma’s impact by bringing healing to those impacted by it.

OJP is also soliciting applicants to develop CVI strategies that include a focus on addressing the impact of community violence on children and youth. The unique needs of children and youth involved in community violence require initiatives that incorporate a variety of different stakeholders, including family, school, and youth-specific community-based organizations (CBOs). Applicants should ensure planning and implementation efforts recognize that children and youth may be engaged in community violence with adults, so there is a need to include a child- and youth-specific focus when designing programs. While similar strategies for both groups may be effective, these strategies should be based on data, including data on juvenile delinquency and school-based data.

Under this solicitation, OJP is seeking to make investments that advance the following principles:

- Targeted Violence Interventions and Supports for Highest Need Groups – Support evidence-informed, promising, and effective or innovative CVI strategies that focus on: (1) identifying and serving individuals and groups with the highest likelihood of being involved in, exposed to, and victims of violence; (2) reaching hard-to-engage populations of any age through trusted, credible messengers; (3) engaging these persons to disrupt cycles of violence and retaliation, including proactive efforts to prevent violence before it occurs whenever possible; and (4) connecting these high risk people to services to help them achieve wellness, healing, and long-term success. These services may include, but are not limited to, intensive case management, financial assistance, educational opportunities, housing assistance, peer mentorship and support, cognitive behavioral therapy and counseling, trauma-informed care, job training and skill building, conflict mediation, relocation, and other relevant services.

- Community-centered and Equity-focused – Support place-based strategies focused on communities experiencing high rates of violence and the individuals in the communities most at risk for perpetrating or being victimized by violence. These strategies prioritize the needs of the community and build public awareness. They engage community residents and stakeholders most affected by violence to create solutions and guide program development, implementation, and evaluation. They also explore the conditions in a community that can make violence easier to occur without detection and address the lack of spaces for positive activities and economic opportunities for residents. These strategies position interventions in community-serving locations such as hospitals, public health facilities, and schools and cultivate key partnerships with these community resources. They build the capacity of CBOs and provide initial funding so that they may grow and reduce their dependence on outside organizations.

- Integration with Public Safety/Public Health – Build partnerships for CVI strategies to become durable and essential components of the broader public safety and public health ecosystems. Engage stakeholders and multidisciplinary partners from the public, private, and community sectors to form coalitions to prevent and reduce violence, address collective trauma, strengthen community resilience, and build social capital. Promote the development of these partners as trauma-informed organizations that recognize and address vicarious trauma and staff burnout, including supporting the professional development and wellbeing of CVI practitioners.
• Strategic, Data-driven, and Performance-focused – Carefully develop CVI strategies based on assessments using data from multiple sources. This includes ensuring effective program implementation and fidelity to the CVI principles. CVI interventions should build the capacity of CBOs and partners to collect and utilize program performance data to inform the ongoing assessment and improvement of CVI strategies. The approach should prioritize strategies that contribute to improved opportunities and reduced violence, and can be sustained over the long term. To accomplish this, the program builds in both time for planning to engage community residents and key partners and to partner with a researcher to support an analysis and understanding of what is driving the violence.

Funding Category Descriptions

A total of seven funding categories are available under this solicitation. The categories focus on three sets of activities: CVIPI Planning and Implementation, CVIPI Expansion and Enhancement, and CVIPI Capacity Building and Training and Technical Assistance. The CVIPI Planning and Implementation and CVIPI Expansion and Enhancement categories focus on local or tribal projects led by either CBOs or units of government, and are each split into two funding categories which allow for applicants to be evaluated against similar applicant types. Category 5 focuses on regional or national organizations seeking to work with and build the capacity of local CBOs. Finally, there are two funding categories that will support national training and technical assistance (TTA).

CBOs and local units of government, such as mayors’ and county executives’ offices, are often best suited to implement CVI strategies. OJP strongly encourages applications from these entities. Other eligible applicants may also apply with the expectation that a considerable portion of the funding will be directed to implementing CVI strategies through CBOs or local units of government such as mayors’ and county executives’ offices.

CATEGORIES 1–2: CVIPI PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

Category 1: CVIPI Planning and Implementation for Community Based/Tribal Organizations: Competition ID: BJA-2022-00111

Category 2: CVIPI Planning and Implementation for City/County/Tribal Governments: Competition ID: BJA-2022-00112

The CVIPI Planning and Implementation categories support efforts to develop and implement a comprehensive CVI strategy that will maximize existing and new resources. These funding categories are intended for organizations and units of government that are not currently implementing CVI strategies and are seeking financial and technical support to plan and stand up new programs.

Applicants should propose to undertake their work through a multidisciplinary team of stakeholders, which may be an existing, expanded, or new formal working group, committee, or collaboration. This CVI team should meet regularly throughout the project period to guide and inform the planning and implementation process. A description of the team structure should be referenced in the proposal narrative and be submitted as an attachment labeled “Planning Team.” Stakeholders on the team may include, but are not limited to: CVI service providers, county/local public sector leadership, CBOs, court personnel, juvenile justice agencies, law enforcement, school-based law enforcement, district attorneys, public defenders, victim advocates/service providers, child welfare and social services, hospitals and other health care providers, mental health services, researchers, school administrators, faith-based organizations, and community residents. Plans to incorporate the voices from survivors of community violence into the team’s work should be included in the proposed approach.

Award recipients will engage in an initial planning process by engaging residents and key partners, including researchers, to use data and information to understand what is driving the community violence and to design approaches that are based on evidence or test a theory of change. At the end of this period, the team will produce a comprehensive Violence Reduction Strategic Plan and submit it to OJP for review within 12 months of the award date to ensure the key elements are in place before beginning implementation of the new CVI program. To be successful, CVI programs must have buy in from community residents as well as strong partnerships among the stakeholders involved in the effort.

These programs should be grounded in an understanding of what is driving violence in the community, informed by data and community input, as well as feedback from those who have experienced violence or are at risk for violence. During the planning phase, the planning team should meet regularly (at least monthly) to engage community members and gather their feedback and perspectives, particularly those impacted by and at risk for violence. The team should also use this time to engage in and solidify the CVI partnership structure. Meetings may be conducted both virtually and in person.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to collaborate with a research partner to assist with conducting a community violence assessment to determine where and why violence is occurring and assess current gaps and barriers in community services. It is expected that this research partner will be an active member of the working group and employ an action research method by assisting with the implementation of the program and its strategies, identifying and suggesting evidence-based strategies to tailor to the community, and leading the identification and collection of key performance metrics, to include ongoing program process and outcome assessments. For additional information about how to find a research-partner, visit researchpartnerqa_version-2_june2017.pdf (msu.edu), and for a description of action research, visit OVC Fact Sheet: Action Research (ojp.gov).

BJA has created a CVI Implementation Checklist (https://bja.ojp.gov/doc/cvi-implementation-checklist.pdf) that communities may use as a resource to inform planning and implementation. Within 6 months of award, successful applicants will be required to submit completed documentation (i.e., letters of commitment or memorandums of understanding) that demonstrates the structure of and partners to the community collaboration as well as who will be responsible for implementing the funded approach.

Award recipients under Categories 1 and 2 will be expected to work with and receive training and technical assistance from the provider selected under Category 6: CVIPI Training and Technical Assistance for Site-Based Awards.

CATEGORIES 3–4: CVIPI ENHANCEMENT AND EXPANSION

Category 3: CVIPI Enhancement and Expansion for Community Based/Tribal Organizations: Competition ID: BJA-2022-00113

Category 4: CVIPI Enhancement and Expansion for City/County/Tribal Governments: Competition ID: BJA-2022-00114

The CVIPI Enhancement and Expansion categories support the efforts of eligible applicant organizations to increase or enhance the reach or services offered under their existing CVI strategy(ies). These funding categories are intended for organizations and units of government that are currently implementing CVI strategies and are seeking financial and technical support to enhance or expand existing strategies. These teams will engage in an initial planning process by engaging residents and key partners, including researchers, to use data and information to assess their current strategies and how well they have addressed the community violence in order to design enhancements to or expansions of their approach. Jurisdictions initiating CVI programs under the American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021 may wish to expand or enhance those programs using funds from this category.

Applicants must propose and undertake their work through an existing multidisciplinary team of stakeholders, which applicants are encouraged to assess and enhance or expand, building on their current formal working group, committee, or collaboration. This CVI team should meet regularly throughout the project period to expand and enhance the provision of services as well as identify and test new approaches to the prevention and reduction of violence and victimization. A description of the current team and proposed enhancements or expansions to the structure should be referenced in the proposal narrative and be submitted as an attachment labeled “Planning Team.” Stakeholders on the team may include, but are not limited to, county/local public sector leadership, CBOs, court personnel, juvenile justice agencies, law enforcement, school-based law enforcement, district attorneys, public defenders, victim advocates/service providers, child welfare and social services, hospitals and other health care providers, mental health services, school administrators, researchers, faith-based organizations, and community residents. The voices of survivors should be incorporated into this work either as part of the existing working group and program structure or as a proposed expansion to the working group and program.

Applicants should have formalized partnerships with current multidisciplinary team stakeholder members (i.e., letters of commitment or memorandums of understanding [MOUs]) in place at the time of application and should include the attachment labeled “CVIPI Team” with the team participants’ names and the name of their agencies. Applicants should also add the proposed partners to the MOU or attach letters of support from them.
The current strategies should be grounded in an understanding of what is driving violence in the community and be informed by data and community input as well as feedback from those at risk for violence. During the grant period, the CVIPI team should plan to meet with and engage community members to gather their feedback and perspectives, particularly those impacted by and at risk for violence. The team should also continue to invest time to engage the partnerships and solidify the CVIPI partnership structure.

Award recipients under Categories 3 and 4 will be expected to work with and receive training and technical assistance from the provider selected under Category 6: CVIPI Training and Technical Assistance for Site-Based Awards.

Applicants in Categories 3 and 4 are required to collaborate with a research partner to assist with the implementation of the program and its strategies, identify and suggest evidence-based strategies to tailor to the community, and lead the identification and collection of key performance metrics, including ongoing process and outcome assessments of the program. It is expected that the research partner will be an active member of the working group and that they employ, where appropriate, an action research method in working with the site. For additional information about how to find a research partner, visit researchpartnerqa_version-2_june2017.pdf (msu.edu), and for a description of action research, visit OVC Fact Sheet: Action Research (ojp.gov).

Evaluation of CVIPI Enhancement and Expansion Awards

Applicants under Categories 3 and 4 are strongly encouraged to participate in a rigorous evaluation of their CVI strategy. The National Institute of Justice (NIJ) is releasing a separate solicitation titled "Evaluations of OJP Community Based Violence Intervention and Prevention Initiative (CVIPI) Programs, Fiscal Year 2022" that will fund evaluation proposals that will be paired with applications funded under Categories 3 and 4. These evaluation applications are intended to be coordinated with programmatic applications under Category 3 and 4, but the evaluation projects will remain independent and objective studies for the purpose of providing valuable information that will contribute to the growing body of evidence regarding the effectiveness of CVI strategies.

Interested applicants should work with a partner organization (e.g., university, research organization) to plan and coordinate the submission of paired applications under Categories 3 and 4 and the NIJ solicitation. OJP will prioritize funding for applications that also submit a paired proposal in response to the NIJ solicitation. Since applications under these two solicitations will be reviewed and assessed independently, successful applications under Categories 3 and 4 may receive awards even if the paired evaluation application to NIJ is unsuccessful. However, evaluation applications to NIJ may not receive an award if the paired application under Categories 3 and 4 is unsuccessful.

Interested applicants to Categories 3 and 4 should clearly indicate their interest in participating in an evaluation by noting this in the proposal abstract and naming the applicant organization that will separately apply to the NIJ solicitation. Applicants should describe plans for information sharing and coordinating with the evaluation and provide letters of support in each of the applications from the proposed research partner. Applicants coordinating with an evaluation application should also include an internal research partner to support the data collection and implementation through an action research method, as appropriate. If applicants propose engaging with the same entity or individual to carry out the roles of research partner and evaluator under the NIJ solicitation, the applicant must budget separately for these roles in the respective applications, and clearly describe methods for distinguishing these roles and maintaining objectivity and independence in the evaluation. Further review and steps may be necessary post award.

CATEGORY 5: CAPACITY BUILDING FOR COMMUNITY BASED ORGANIZATIONS VIA INTERMEDIARY ORGANIZATIONS

Competition ID: BJA-2022-00115

Community-based organizations (CBOs) are central to carrying out CVI strategies. However, many CBOs face significant barriers to directly accessing and administering federal grant resources. Under this category, OJP will fund up to five intermediary organizations, serving as fiscal agents, each of which will in turn identify and provide intensive training and technical assistance, oversight, and subawards to up to five CBOs over the course of the project period. These intermediary organizations may be national, regional, or more localized organizations with established capacity to work with CBOs, particularly those focused on underserved communities. The CBOs will use the funding to increase their capacity and workforce development in support of community violence.

OJP is open to a range of models to be used by intermediary organizations serving as fiscal agents. The organization may focus on CBOs in a particular city, region, or have a more national scope. These approaches should seek to build capacities that can be sustained by local or regional partners at the end of the project. The intermediary organization is expected to competitively award subawards in collaboration with OJP and provide TTA support to CBOs implementing new CVI programs or expanding existing programs. The subawards are expected to range between $100,000 and $250,000. Applicants are encouraged to include plans in their proposals for identifying and selecting the subrecipient sites. OJP must approve the application process, selection criteria, and selection of subrecipients suggested by the applicant. The process and design should recognize and serve the capacity limitations of smaller entities to apply for and administer grant funding and suggest methods to build capacity while also ensuring accountability to reach the desired program outcomes.

Intermediary organization applicants should submit proposals that describe projects detailing their experience specific to CVI and crime reduction strategies across different settings and their experience managing federal subawards. Applicants are expected to have direct experience in developing relationships with underserved and marginalized communities, including specific experience working with communities experiencing high rates of violence. These organizations must demonstrate deep knowledge and experience in one or more evidence-based CVI strategies and expertise in connecting with victims and survivors as a critical component of this work.

Subawards to CBOs may include salary support, equipment, materials, training opportunities, and travel costs associated with TTA. Funds may also be used for developing curricula, assessment tools, or organizational policies and procedures, such as wellness plans, to support CVI staff. In administering financial support to CBOs through subawards, intermediary organizations are responsible for ensuring that all funds are used appropriately according to the applicable accounting and financial management principles as set forth in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide. The requirements for subrecipient monitoring can be found in 31 U.S.C. § 7502 and in Title 2 C.F.R. § 200 (including, but not limited to, the sections on “Subrecipient Monitoring and Management” contained in Subpart D and audit requirements applicable to subrecipients contained in Subpart F).

Intermediary organizations may be comprised of multiple collaborating entities that collectively possess the range of skills and expertise necessary to administer the subawards. For example, an intermediary organization may include partnerships with other entities delivering culturally competent organizational capacity building TTA, or supporting the development and implementation of CVI strategies, and other areas of expertise relevant to the goals of this approach. Applicants in this category must identify a lead applicant (fiscal agent) and clearly describe a management plan for coordinating across the collaborating entities.

CATEGORY 6: CVI TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE FOR SITE-BASED AWARDS

Competition ID: BJA-2022-00116

OJP is seeking one national training and technical assistance provider to assist approximately 25 FY22 CVIPI site-based grantees (Categories 1–4) with the implementation of their projects and in translating this knowledge to the field more broadly through training and webinars, tools, and web content, which it will develop and manage. The TTA provider is expected to conduct individualized TTA needs assessments with each Category 1–4 grantee, provide customized TTA based on the results of these needs assessments, conduct cross-site trainings for grantees on a variety of CVI program- and operations-related topics, and create and facilitate peer-to-peer networking/consultation/information-sharing sessions for the various stakeholders involved in CVI work. The TTA provider must have the capacity to conduct TTA for sites with varying levels of experience implementing CVI initiatives. The TTA provider must also have demonstrated experience working with various groups involved in CVI initiatives (e.g. local, state, and tribal governments; faith-based organizations, CBOs, hospitals and other health care providers, victim service providers, law enforcement, etc.). The TTA provider is expected to have direct experience in developing relationships with underserved and marginalized communities, including specific experience working with communities experiencing high rates of violence. It must also demonstrate deep knowledge of the full range of evidence-based CVI strategies and a commitment to trauma-informed principles and how those principles will be incorporated into the TTA provided to CVI grantees.

The TTA provider may be comprised of multiple collaborating entities that collectively possess the range of skills and expertise necessary to fulfill the goals, objectives, and deliverables of this category. Applicants in this category must identify a lead applicant (fiscal agent) and clearly describe a management plan for coordinating across the collaborating entities.

CATEGORY 7: CVIPI RESOURCE AND FIELD SUPPORT CENTER

Competition ID: BJA-2022-00117

The CVIPI Resource and Field Support Center (the Center) will provide technical assistance to communities not funded under Categories 1–4 that are interested in pursuing CVI strategies. It will build capacity and strengthen local networks to facilitate the implementation and success of CVI strategies across the United States. The Center should partner with subject matter experts who can provide a wide range of technical assistance through coaching, targeted training, problem solving, as well as needs assessments and data collection. The Center’s engagements with communities will vary in length and intensity; some may need 1–2 months while others may require a 1-year engagement. In addition, the Center will collaborate with other CVIPI TTA providers in developing and maintaining website resources for the field and providing information about other resources and funding for CVIPI Program support. Applicants are expected to have direct experience in developing relationships with underserved and marginalized communities, including working with communities experiencing high rates of violence, and must demonstrate deep knowledge of the full range of evidence-based CVI strategies. They must also demonstrate a commitment to trauma-informed principles and demonstrate how those principles will be incorporated by the Center.

The Center may be comprised of multiple collaborating entities that collectively possess the range of skills and expertise necessary to fulfill the goals, objectives, and deliverables of this category. Applicants in this category must identify a lead applicant (fiscal agent) and clearly describe a management plan for coordinating across the collaborating entities.

Additional Resources:

When looking to identify best practices that are evidence based, some excellent resources that might support your particular community-based strategy include:

- The BJA Community Violence Intervention microsite provides a checklist, CVI Guiding Principles, glossary, CVI strategies, and additional resources.
- OJP CrimeSolutions uses rigorous research to inform practitioners and policymakers about what works in criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services.
- Youth.gov provides interactive tools and other resources to help youth-serving organizations and community partnerships plan, implement, and participate in effective programs for youth. This website includes information on the National Forum on Youth Violence Prevention (Forum), which was created to build the capacity of localities across the country to more effectively address youth violence through multidisciplinary partnerships, balanced approaches, data-driven strategies, comprehensive planning, and sharing common challenges and promising strategies. The Forum is a strategy for federal and local collaboration that encourages its member jurisdictions to review and improve internal decision-making structures, policies, and practices; increase communication; and implement strategic, coordinated action to change the way they do business.
- The OJJDP Model Programs Guide contains information about evidence-based juvenile justice and youth prevention, intervention, and reentry programs. It is a resource for practitioners and communities about what works, what is promising, and what does not work in juvenile justice, delinquency prevention, and child protection and safety.
- The National Gang Center disseminates information, knowledge, and outcome-driven practices that engage and empower those in local communities with chronic and emerging gang problems to create comprehensive solutions to prevent gang violence, reduce gang involvement, and suppress gang-related crime. This website includes information on OJJDP’s Comprehensive Gang Model, which is an evidence-based framework for the coordination of multiple strategies to address serious, violent, and entrenched youth street gang problems. The model combines prevention, intervention, and deterrence tactics to address the root causes of criminal gang activity within a community.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Goals
The overall goal of CVIPI is to prevent and reduce violent crime in communities by supporting comprehensive, evidence-based violence intervention and prevention programs.

Objectives
Applicants to Categories 1–4 must address the following objectives/activities in their proposal narrative’s project design and implementation:

- For Categories 1 and 2, build or repurpose a working group, and for Categories 3 and 4, strengthen an existing working group in the CVIPI program. The working group membership and expertise should be tailored to best address the community’s problems and needs. A model working group would be diverse, pulling in individuals with expertise in the topic areas and communities of focus who can serve to design and champion the program to success. Fully organized working groups may include experts from the community of focus (e.g., community advocates), CBOs, government and local government agencies (e.g., mayor’s office, county executive’s office), private and public service organizations (e.g., victim service organizations, treatment centers, hospitals, clinics), educational institutions (e.g., local schools, local universities), and the criminal justice system (e.g., probation and parole, local law enforcement, local prosecutors) as well as program implementation experts and research partners. Working groups should meet regularly and should have clear, shared expectations and commitment by all members. Working groups should be formalized through letters of commitment and/or MOUs.

- Through a collaborative, multimethod, data-collection, and analysis approach, conduct a needs assessment to develop a detailed understanding of the nature, patterns, and root causes of community violence within the community of focus. A previously conducted needs assessment, which may already be present in the Category 3 and 4 sites, may be used as a foundation for this work, but the initial analysis should assess effectiveness and address gaps.

- Focus on addressing community violence through a data-driven approach by identifying performance goals and measures of success for each of the strategies and the overall program. The strategies should consider how to best provide services and address needs in historically underrepresented and underserved communities.

- Hold regular (at least monthly) collaboration meetings, in person or virtually, with the key working group partners to examine the implementation of each strategy by examining the performance measures and movement toward goals, as well as to discuss overcoming barriers to success and planning future activities.

- Place priority on building and maintaining a close relationship between the program and the working group member organizations and the community of focus, including community members and community-based organizations. Activities may include, but are not limited to, taking part or sponsoring local community events; providing transparency on the program’s goals and successes (e.g., regular meetings with the community, social media posts); and engaging community members and CBOs in problem solving and decision-making (e.g., focus groups, surveys).

- The working group should begin to consider how to sustain the program past the current award. Working with state and local government entities and grant-making organizations, the working group should identify and develop plans to sustain the CVIPI program for the long term, including describing the active roles of the working group members and other community stakeholders.

The objectives for the TTA Categories (5–7) are:
- Category 5: Enhance the community partners’ capacity to successfully seek and manage funding and work with CBOs to implement CVI strategies through TTA and capacity-building activities, including the administration of subawards.

- Category 6: Enhance the capacity of all Category 1–4 grantees to effectively plan, collaborate on, and implement CVI strategies by providing resources, subject matter expertise, and TTA for the purpose of improving CVI strategies and implementation.

- Category 7: Provide customized TTA support and serve as a clearinghouse of CVI information by establishing a CVIP Resource and Field Support Center. The Center will serve communities interested in pursuing local CVI initiatives that are not receiving funds under Categories 1–4.

Deliverables

Applicants to Categories 1–4 must address the following deliverables in their proposal narratives in the project design and implementation section:

- A full list of active working group members as well as letters of commitment and/or MOUs should be submitted within the first 6 months of the date of the award.

- Develop or enhance a community-specific Violence Reduction Strategic Plan that is informed by available local data and existing plans, which should be used to guide the project. For Categories 1 and 2, this plan is to be submitted within 12 months of the date of the award and should be comprehensive and updated annually as a key. For Categories 3 and 4, the existing strategy should be assessed and enhanced within 6 months of the award being made and should be comprehensive and updated annually as a key deliverable.

- Participate in efforts to assess, evaluate, and/or translate learning from the program to the field to advance knowledge and support peer learning. Examples of these types of efforts may include, but not be limited to, participating in a presentation at a national conference, a web-based presentation, and/or a podcast organized by an OJP-funded technical assistance partner or OJP.

- Document the implementation of a CVI strategy that is data driven, evidence informed, community led, and trauma informed. A final report summarizing the activities of the CVI program, including successes and lessons learned, as well as future plans for the program, is due 90 days after the program end date. If the initiative includes a research partner as part of the working group, it is expected their programmatic process and/or outcome findings be integrated into the final report.

Category 5 deliverables

In accordance with the cooperative agreement with OJP, the successful awardee will partner with OJP to administer subawards to CBOs for the purpose of building capacity and supporting CVI strategies. To accomplish this, the successful applicant will undertake the following:

- Assess the gaps in CBOs’ capacity to implement CVI projects.

- Develop, in collaboration with OJP, a solicitation or request for proposals with agreed-upon selection criteria and in accordance with state, local, and OJP regulations.

- Develop and host, in collaboration with OJP, a pre-application solicitation webinar for potential applicants. This webinar will fully explain the purpose of the program, define allowable and unallowable costs, and describe the financial and programmatic reporting requirements.

- Conduct a CBO selection process, in collaboration with and approval from BJA, to identify and award subrecipient sites as part of a subaward process. This CBO selection process should ensure that each of the selected CBOs meet the following criteria:

  1. The CBO identifies at least one CVI strategy it is planning to initiate or that is already operational in the jurisdiction.
(2) The CBO clearly identifies the resources needed to support the CVI strategy and build capacity.

(3) The CBO demonstrates capacity and willingness to work collaboratively with the TTA provider.

Once the subawards are made, the successful awardee will:

- Conduct meetings with subrecipient CBOs on a periodic basis, and memorialize the proceedings with meeting notes, transcripts, and/or recordings.

- Complete capacity needs assessments for each participating CBO and work with the CBO to prepare a capacity development plan that is tailored to its current capacity, resources, and community conditions (e.g., violence levels, other existing services or partners). The capacity development plan will guide the TTA provided by the intermediary organization, and will be reviewed and updated, as necessary, during the project period.

- Conduct regional and/or topical meetings across site-based localities on common issue areas. These meetings should include existing subject matter experts and material from DOJ programs and initiatives, including, but not limited to OVC, OJJDP, and BJA programs related to community violence intervention.

- Establish and maintain an online resource to allow subgrantees and other interested parties to search and access any knowledge products (e.g., reports, research briefs, webinars, or podcasts) created by the intermediary organization and other relevant, existing knowledge products related to CVI strategies.

- Complete a final report that includes: (a) a clear summary description of violence reduction strategies supported by subrecipients, (b) assessment of programmatic violence reduction and/or capacity enhancement outcomes, (c) identification of promising or effective practices, (d) common themes that emerge across strategies, (e) lessons learned and challenges encountered, and (f) recommendations for future CVI program development. This report should emphasize an evidence-informed assessment framework that is attentive to the contextual factors at the participating CBOs.

The selected awardee will serve as the designated TTA provider for CVIPI site-based awards (Categories 1–4). OJP’s overall TTA delivery expectations include:

1. Provide site-specific technical assistance to assist grantees funded in Categories 1–4 in producing and/or enhancing community violence interventions that, when implemented, will lead to a reduction in the level of violent crime within their jurisdiction.

2. Individualized, efficient, and consistent delivery of TTA in order to assist grantees in successfully administering their grants.

   a. Develop individualized TTA work plans in collaboration with grantees based on the goals outlined in their applications. The work plan should be presented to each grantee, revised as needed, and agreed to by the grantee.

      i. The work plan should include a checklist to help each grantee execute key tasks. Please note that OJP may require the selected provider to submit for review and approval the proposed TTA plans, protocols, or strategies in advance of disseminating and implementing them with grantees.

   b. Support grantees in completing their work plans and ensure the grantees address governance, program design, performance measures collection, and sustainability.

   c. Recruit, maintain, and leverage a diverse cadre of qualified subject matter experts (SMEs) in CVI strategies who will serve as TTA coaches to local grantee sites.

      Each coach should have the skills and time needed to move their assigned grantees toward their goals. TTA coaches should have consistent, scheduled monthly calls with grantees. Email check-ins may be substituted occasionally, as logistics require. Assigned coaches must provide follow-up information regarding the grantees' implementation of the recommendations. Prior to assigning coaches, the award recipient must provide OJP with a list of the TTA coaches/consultants and their expertise.

d. Assign each grantee a TTA coach to assess and identify needs, including delivering a summary of the findings and recommended next steps for the grantee, to improve program performance, which will be shared with OJP.

e. The selected TTA provider must undertake efforts to anticipate, quickly identify, and address challenges that arise during TTA delivery. When challenges arise, the TTA provider should engage in strategies like case conferencing to harness the collective knowledge of its TTA coaches.

f. All training provided with OJP funding must provide a mechanism for pre- and post-testing of knowledge or other assessment of impact.

3. TTA provider staff are expected to have sufficient subject expertise to assist grantees in the execution of their projects. The staff should have the necessary technical skill sets and experience to effectively be able to coach grantees and assist them in reaching their goals.

4. There are occasions when an external expert will be required. To this end, the TTA provider must utilize a range of local and national SMEs vetted by OJP, including practitioners, academics, and federal partners. The TTA provider must identify and maintain a list of SMEs whose expertise and experience best fit the needs of the grantees. With OJP's approval, the TTA provider will assign these experts to assist grantees and report on and monitor the TTA provided. The roles of the SMEs will vary across engagements, so the TTA provider must develop protocols to define the scope of the subject experts' role, when needed (e.g., advisor to TTA provider, direct assistance to grantees, participating in webinars). The TTA provider must provide written reports to OJP on the TTA provided and the status of ongoing activities.

5. As part of this oversight of staff and experts, the provider must document its plan to ensure that it has a set of diverse staff, trainers, and/or subject matter experts that reflect a mix of experiences and perspectives to be able to effectively reach the communities and practitioners that they will serve. This should include experts who have credibility with both community residents and the CVI partners and those providing interventions to those at risk for violence, including trusted messengers.

6. The TTA provider must participate in ongoing collaboration and coordination. It should emphasize and actively engage in cross-organizational coordination, including:

a. Coordination in local jurisdictions. The TTA provider must be both aware of and in touch with other key, overlapping initiatives and TTA providers in the jurisdictions in which it is assisting.

b. Serving as a coordinator with federal partners and support strategies related to CVI.

c. Coordination across interest groups. The TTA provider must develop regular meetings (e.g., quarterly stakeholder meetings, annual advisory board meeting) to allow for ongoing dialogue among relevant partners, including, at a minimum, federal partners, public/private partnerships, and special interest groups (e.g., peer support community).

7. The TTA provider must serve as a thought leader and information clearinghouse for relevant research and best practices and must proactively build knowledge and capacity in the area of CVI for the field. This includes coordinating and supporting a presence at national meetings and conferences via workshops, panel presentations, and briefings. It must:

a. Create knowledge diffusion products (e.g., fact sheets, webinars) and disseminate them through OJP's networks. All products must be 508 compliant.

b. Convene grantee learning communities, based on their respective projects/programs, to explore best practices and lessons learned.
c. Disseminate best practices and lessons learned by attending and presenting at national, state, local, tribal, or other conferences and events related to award activities where officials and other stakeholders can learn about successful strategies.

d. Maintain a listserv of grantees, subgrantees, and key contacts responsible for undertaking grant and related activities, including interested state, local, and tribal contacts, and federal and national partners.

8. The TTA provider must support the collection and analysis of performance measures data to support continuous improvement. It must:

a. Assist grantees in the collection of performance measures data for submission to JustGrants.

b. Propose to and work with OJP on tailoring the TTA strategy to meet emerging needs and trends, based on performance reporting trends and TTA needs assessments.

9. Coordinate all TTA activities with OJP, including summaries of TTA events and timely submission of the required programmatic and financial status reports.

Category 7 deliverables

The selected awardee will serve as the designated TTA provider for local communities that are interested in implementing CVI strategies but do not have a Category 1–4 award. This may include jurisdictions that have received other federal or local funds for CVI programs and potential applicants for OJP CVIPI funds. This will be done through the establishment of a CVIPI Field Support Resource Center that will:

1. Recruit, maintain, and leverage a diverse cadre of qualified subject matter experts in CVI strategies that will serve communities.

   a. SMEs are expected to have sufficient subject matter expertise in the execution of their projects. The SMEs should have the necessary technical skill sets and experience to effectively complete the tasks under the award. There are also occasions when an external expert (non-Center staff) will be required.

   b. To this end, the TTA provider must utilize a range of vetted local and national SMEs, including practitioners, academics, and federal partners. The TTA provider must identify and maintain a list of SMEs whose expertise and experience best fit the needs of the Center. This includes a key priority of ensuring that the Center considers and has a plan to ensure that it has a set of diverse staff, trainers, and/or SMEs who reflect a mix of experiences and perspectives to be able to effectively reach the communities and practitioners that they will serve. This should include experts who have credibility with both community residents and CVI partners and those providing interventions to those at risk for violence, including trusted messengers.

   c. With OJP’s approval, the TTA provider will assign these experts and report on and monitor the TTA services provided. The roles of the SMEs will vary across engagements, so the TTA provider must develop protocols to define the scope of their roles, when needed (e.g., trainer, development of a product, participating in webinars). The TTA provider must provide written reports to BJA on the TTA provided and the status of ongoing activities.

2. Establish a CVIPI Field Support Resource Center website that will support the field with relevant CVI resources.

   a. The Center’s website will include online tools and implementation guides to clarify governance and support the creation of program designs and performance measures collection to track success and support sustainability.

3. Develop resources for the CVI field at large that are needs driven and evidence based to help the field expand programmatic knowledge and capacity to develop, implement, enhance, and sustain CVI strategies.
4. Participate in ongoing collaboration and coordination with other CVIPI TTA providers and sites implementing CVI strategies, including both sites that are funded under this solicitation and those that are not. The engagement should emphasize cross-organizational coordination, including:

   a. Coordination in local jurisdictions. The TTA provider should be both aware of and in touch with other key, overlapping initiatives and TTA providers in the jurisdictions in which it is assisting.

   b. Coordination with other TTA providers funded through Categories 5 and 6. The TTA provider should be knowledgeable about and coordinate with other TTA providers, as needed, to ensure TTA resources are leveraged effectively.

5. Prioritize responses to requests from practitioners and the field, in consultation with OJP. Not all ad hoc requests require an extensive response—some might require referral to resources or connection with other agencies for collaboration—but a limited number may require more thorough exploration and response. In consultation with OJP, the TTA provider must design a process to evaluate requests for limited assistance from unfunded jurisdictions and agencies, triage requests that are received and respond to them efficiently and effectively, and produce regular (i.e., quarterly) written reports that summarize the support provided.

6. Build capacity and strengthen local networks to help facilitate the implementation and success of CVI strategies.

7. Assess the needs of the defined audience and develop strategies to expand awareness and build skills and knowledge. Create work plans based on the goals outlined in its funded application. The work plan should be presented to OJP staff and include tools such as spreadsheets or dashboards to track the execution of key tasks. Please note that OJP may require the selected provider to submit for review and approval the proposed plans, protocols, or strategies in advance of implementation.

The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that show the completed work’s results as discussed in the “Application and Submission Information” section.

Evidence-Based Programs or Practices

OJP strongly encourages the use of data and evidence in policymaking and program development for criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services. For additional information and resources on evidence-based programs or practices, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities

OJP may conduct or support an evaluation of the programs and activities funded under this solicitation. For additional information, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide section entitled “Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities.”

OJP Priority Areas

The Department of Justice is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

1. Priority Considerations Supporting Executive Order 13985, Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government

   Consistent with this Executive Order, the term “underserved community” refers to a population sharing a particular characteristic, as well as a geographic community, that has been systematically denied a full opportunity to participate in aspects of economic, social, and civic life or whose members have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality. Such communities include, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders.
In support of Executive Order 13985, OJP will:

A. Give priority consideration to applications that include project(s) that will promote racial equity and the removal of barriers to access and opportunity for communities that have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality when making award decisions.

To receive this consideration, the applicant must describe how the proposed project(s) will address potential inequities and barriers to equal opportunity, and/or contribute to greater access to services for underserved and historically marginalized populations.

B. Give priority consideration to applicants that can demonstrate that their capabilities and competencies for implementing their proposed project(s) are enhanced because the applicant (or at least one proposed subrecipient that will receive at least 30% of the requested award funding, as demonstrated in the Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative) identifies as a culturally specific organization. To receive this additional priority consideration, applicants must describe how being a culturally specific organization (or funding the culturally specific subrecipient organization(s)) will enhance their ability to implement the proposed project(s) and should also specify which culturally specific populations are intended or expected to be served or to have their needs addressed under the proposed project(s).

Culturally specific organizations are defined for purposes of this solicitation as private nonprofit or tribal organizations whose primary purpose as a whole is to provide culturally specific services to, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and/or Pacific Islanders.

2. Applications from communities with documented high and/or increasing levels of homicides per capita. Applicants should include documentation in the proposal narrative.

3. Applicants that can demonstrate existing partnerships with multidisciplinary team stakeholder members (i.e., letters of commitment and/or MOU) will receive priority consideration and should include the attachment labeled “CVIPI Team” with the names of participants on the team and the names of their agencies. For those applicants unable to demonstrate existing partnerships at the time of application, if awarded, these applicants will be required to submit documentation (i.e., letters of commitment and/or MOU) that demonstrates the community stakeholder collaboration responsible for implementing the funded approach within 6 months of receiving the award.

For those applicants unable to demonstrate existing partnerships at the time of application, if awarded, these applicants will be required to submit documentation (i.e., letters of commitment and/or MOU) that demonstrates the community stakeholder collaboration responsible for implementing the funded approach within 6 months of receiving the award.

4. Applicants proposing a companion evaluation application under the NIJ solicitation "Evaluations of OJP Community Based Violence Intervention and Prevention Initiative (CVIPI) Programs, Fiscal Year 2022."

Note: Addressing these priority areas is one of many factors that OJP considers in making funding decisions. Receiving priority consideration for one or more priority areas is not a guarantee of an award.

Additional Information

It is expected that not all applicants will request the maximum funding amount in Categories 1–4, as needs will vary depending on the size of the jurisdiction and additional funding available for CVI programs from other city, state, and federal sources. Applicants are encouraged to request a level of funding that is appropriate for the project proposed. For this reason, this solicitation provides a range for the number of awards expected to be made for each category. For this reason, this solicitation provides the total potential number of awards expected to be made for each category, but these numbers may be less. than the total depending on the amounts requested.

Continuation Funding Intent

BJA may, in certain cases, provide additional funding in future years to awards made under this solicitation through continuation awards. OJP will consider, among other factors, OJP’s strategic priorities, a recipient’s overall management of the award, and the award-funded work’s progress, when making continuation award decisions.

Availability of Funds

This solicitation, and awards (if any are made) under this solicitation, are subject to the availability of appropriated funds and to any modifications or additional requirements that may be imposed by the agency or by law. In addition, nothing in this solicitation is intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States, its departments, agencies, or entities, its officers, employees, or agents, or any other person.

Types of Awards

BJA expects to make awards under this solicitation in Categories 1–4 as grants. See the “Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements” section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for a brief discussion of important statutes, regulations, and award conditions that apply to many (or in some cases, all) OJP grants.

BJA expects to make awards under this solicitation in Categories 5–7 as cooperative agreements, which provide for OJP to have substantial involvement in carrying out award activities. See the “Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements” section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Financial Management and System of Internal Controls

Award recipients and subrecipients (including recipients or subrecipients that are pass-through entities) must, as described in the Part 200 Uniform Requirements as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.303, comply with standards for financial and program management. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget Information

Successful applicants under Categories 1–4 are expected to participate in an up-to 3-day cross-site grantee meeting in each year of the project and should budget for as many as three representatives to travel to attend these meetings. All expenses must be reasonable, allowable, and necessary to the project. The estimates must provide a breakdown of all costs and adhere to the federal per diem. For federal per diem rates, see: https://www.gsa.gov/travel/plan-book/per-diem-rates.

While CVIPI focuses on reducing violence and encourages a broad approach, some costs will not be allowable under this initiative and/or may require prior approval by OJP. Recognizing that this is a dynamic process and adjustments may be needed as a site evaluates how it will implement the strategies, OJP will consider changes to the approach and associated costs if justified by the grantee. However, revisions to the budget are approved through a separate process.

Technological devices, artificial intelligence, predictive analytics, and other data-driven solutions (“Technological Enhancements”) are increasingly used to augment crime reduction strategies and efforts. Care must be taken to assess and address any potential harm that could be activated by these solutions to ensure privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties are protected. Applicants proposing to utilize grant funds to support technological enhancements directly or via TTA may receive priority consideration if their proposal addresses the tenants of digital trust such as:

- How the technology will be carefully implemented through training of personnel and the setting and enforcement of policies governing its use to ensure that it contributes to positive outcomes for public safety, the community, and/or the criminal justice system.

- How the applicant will safeguard privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties throughout the duration of the project period.

If an applicant misses a deadline due to unforeseen technical difficulties, the applicant may request a waiver to submit an application after the deadline. Note: If an applicant does not submit all the required Grants.gov forms by the Grants.gov deadline, the applicant will not be able to proceed to the JustGrants portion of the application process.

An applicant experiencing technical difficulties with the following systems must contact the associated support desk indicated below to report the technical issue and receive a tracking number:

- Grants.gov - contact the Grants.gov Customer Support Hotline
- SAM.gov - contact the SAM Help Desk (Federal Service Desk)
- JustGrants - contact the JustGrants Support Desk at JustGrants.Support@usdoj.gov or 833–872–5175

An applicant requesting a waiver to submit a late application must document their request for technical assistance in an email to the OJP Response Center at grants@ncjrs.gov within 24 hours after the application deadline to request approval to submit its application after the deadline. If an applicant has technical issues with Grants.gov, the applicant must contact the OJP Response Center within 24 hours of the Grants.gov deadline to request approval to submit after the deadline. However, waiver requests will not be reviewed until after the JustGrants deadline to allow time for all waivers to be submitted. Waiver requests to submit after the submission deadline must:

- Describe the technical difficulties experienced;
- Include a timeline of the applicant's submission efforts (e.g., what date and time did the error occur, what date and time was action taken to resolve the issue and resubmit; and what date and time did support representatives respond)
• Include an attachment(s) of the complete grant application and all required documentation and material; and
• Include the applicant’s Unique Entity Identifier (UEI), any applicable SAM.gov tracking number(s), Grants.gov Help Desk, and JustGrants Support Desk Ticket Numbers.

OJP will review each request for late submission and required supporting documentation and notify the applicant whether the request has been approved or denied. For more details on the waiver process, OJP encourages applicants to review the “Experiencing Unforeseen Technical Issues” section in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Application Review Information

Review Criteria

a. Merit Review Criteria

Applications under Categories 1–4 that meet the basic minimum requirements will be evaluated by peer reviewers on how the proposed project/program addresses the following criteria:

1. Statement of the Problem/Description of the Issue (15%) - evaluate the applicant’s understanding of the program/issue to be addressed.

b. Other Review Criteria/Factors

Other important considerations for BJA include geographic diversity, strategic priorities (specifically including, but not limited to, those priority areas already mentioned), available funding, past performance, and the extent to which the Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative (web-based form) accurately explain project costs that are reasonable, necessary, and otherwise allowable under federal law and applicable federal cost principles.
Review Process

Applications submitted under this solicitation that meet the basic minimum requirements, will be evaluated for technical merit by a peer review panel(s) in accordance with OJP peer review policy and procedures using the review criteria listed above.

OJP screens applications to ensure they meet the basic minimum requirements prior to conducting the peer review. Although specific requirements may vary, the following are common requirements applicable to all OJP solicitations:

- The application must be submitted by an eligible type of applicant.
- The application must request funding within programmatic funding constraints (if applicable).
- The application must be responsive to the scope of the solicitation.
- The application must include all items necessary to meet the basic minimum requirements.

Pursuant to the Part 200 Uniform Requirements, before award decisions are made, OJP also reviews information related to the degree of risk posed by the applicant. Among other things to help assess whether an applicant with one or more prior federal awards has a satisfactory record with respect to performance, integrity, and business ethics, OJP checks whether the applicant is listed in SAM as excluded from receiving a federal award.

In addition, if OJP anticipates that an award will exceed $250,000 in federal funds, OJP also must review and consider any information about the applicant that appears in the non-public segment of the integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently, the Federal Awardee Performance and Integrity Information System, FAPIIS).

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency. OJP will consider such comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in FAPIIS, in its assessment of the risk posed by the applicant.

Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General, who may consider not only peer review ratings and BJA recommendations, but also other factors as indicated in this section.
