To become certified, the law enforcement agency must meet two mandatory conditions: (1) the agency’s use-of-force policies adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and (2) the agency’s use-of-force policies prohibit chokeholds except in situations where use of deadly force is allowed by law. The certification requirement also applies to law enforcement agencies receiving DOJ discretionary grant funding through a subaward. ## Program Description

Overview

OJP is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

The Community Courts Initiative supports efforts by state, local, and federally recognized American Indian tribal governments to establish and enhance community courts in their jurisdictions. Community courts are neighborhood-focused court programs that combine the power of the community and the justice system to address local problems. They connect persons committing less serious crimes — often misdemeanor cases — to judicially supervised substance use disorder treatment, alternative sanctions, and other community-based services.

Statutory Authority

Any awards under this solicitation would be made under the Department of Justice Appropriations Act, 2022 (Pub. L. No. 117-103, 136 Stat. 49, 127). See also Pub. L. No. 90-351, Title I, Part EE (codified at 34 U.S.C. 10611-10619).

Specific Information

Community courts are neighborhood-focused court programs that combine the power of the community and the justice system to address local problems. They connect persons committing less serious crimes — often misdemeanor cases — to judicially supervised drug treatment, alternative sanctions, and other community-based services. Community courts enhance public safety by addressing underlying issues that lead to criminal behavior, including substance use and behavioral health issues. By engaging communities in planning and operational processes, they provide justice system officials with more effective options in dealing with lower-level offenses, enhance public trust in the conduct of justice, and help to reduce unnecessary incarceration. The types of cases community courts accept vary depending on the communities that they serve. Courts in residential neighborhoods are more likely to address housing, environmental issues, and youth crime, whereas those in downtown areas prioritize issues such as homelessness and disorderly conduct.

The first community court was created in midtown Manhattan, New York City, in 1993 with support from BJA. Located a short walk from Times Square, the Midtown Community Court works with people in the neighborhood to tailor creative responses to local concerns. Since then, the model has spread across the United States and evolved into differing approaches based on the needs of locations that are interested in reinvigorating public trust in justice, reducing the use of incarceration, and forging new responses to crimes committed in the community, including those involving substance use disorders and co-occurring mental health issues. The community court model has varied over time, with some courts having buildings located in the community and other courts partnering with local institutions like libraries to bring court dockets to buildings in the community on a periodic basis. Other jurisdictions open their courthouses to increase access for residents to services and a community-focused docket of cases. These community-oriented projects can also serve as the basis to provide community justice beyond the courtroom, serving as the partnership that can solve other community safety problems, leverage resources for residents, prevent crime, and improve public trust in justice. These approaches can have broader outcomes, such as improved quality of life, better community attitudes toward the criminal justice system, and restorative justice approaches.

The criminogenic risks and needs of those who are served in community courts can vary, reflecting a range of risk and needs. Community courts are not intended to replace but rather complement the intensive approaches of drug courts, which are specifically for just a high risk, high need group of participants. For this reason, funding will support, and these projects are expected to serve, participants that bring a range of risks and needs.

While these projects have many differences, in general they all rely on a set of common principles and practices:

Enhanced Information: Using better staff training (about complex issues like drug addiction and mental illness) combined with better information (about defendants, victims, and the community context of crime) to help improve the decision-making of judges, attorneys, and other justice system officials.

- Community Engagement: Engaging citizens and people with lived experience to help the justice system identify, prioritize, and solve local problems.
- Collaboration: Bringing together justice system players (such as judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, law enforcement, probation officers, and court managers) and potential stakeholders beyond the courthouse (such as social service providers, residents, victims groups, schools) to improve interagency communication and trust between citizens and government, and foster new responses to problems.
- Individualized Justice: Using evidence-based risk and needs assessment instruments to link defendants to individually tailored community-based services (e.g., job training, substance use disorder treatment, safety planning, mental health counseling) where appropriate.
- Accountability: Employing community restitution mandates and regular compliance monitoring — with clear consequences for noncompliance — to improve the accountability of defendants.
- Outcomes: Collecting and analyzing data on an active and ongoing basis — measuring outcomes, process, costs, and benefits — to evaluate the effectiveness of operations and encourage continuous improvement.

All applicants under this solicitation must demonstrate how the proposed community court conforms to the key community courts principles. For more information on community courts, see <https://bja.ojp.gov/program/community-courts-program/overview>. Applicants must document their plan to ensure that they have a set of diverse staff, partners, and/or subject matter experts that reflect a mix of experiences and perspectives to be able to effectively reach the communities and practitioners that they will serve. In addition, all applicants under this solicitation must demonstrate that the proposed community court conforms with statutory requirements:

- Continuing judicial supervision over defendants with substance use problems.
- Coordination with appropriate state or local prosecutors.
- The integrated administration of other sanctions and services, which shall include:
  - Mandatory periodic testing for the use of controlled substances or other addictive substances during any period of supervised release or probation for each participant.
  - Substance use treatment for each participant who requires such services.
  - Diversion, probation, or other supervised release involving the possibility of prosecution, confinement, or incarceration based on noncompliance with program requirements or failure to show satisfactory progress.
  - Defendant management, and aftercare services such as relapse prevention health care, education, vocational training, job placement, housing placement, and childcare or other family support services for each participant who requires such services.
  - Payment, in whole or in part, by the defendant of treatment costs, to the extent practicable, such as costs for urinalysis or counseling.
  - Payment, in whole or in part, by the defendant of restitution, to the extent practicable, to either a victim of the defendant's offense or a restitution or similar victim support fund.

BJA will support projects to implement new community courts and enhance or expand existing community courts. Implementation projects will support jurisdictions that have completed a substantial amount of planning and are ready to establish a community court. This planning should include the community court stakeholders engaging residents to assess community-related crimes and issues, including potential kinds of cases, and create an action plan during the first 6 months to build a strong and focused strategy to scale up the community court program's capacity; build or enhance court operations; create, expand, or enhance court services; and improve the quality and/or intensity of services for participants based on needs assessments.

The action plan must be submitted and approved by BJA prior to implementation. BJA, the training and technical assistance (TTA) providers, and the community court will use this action plan to guide and track progress toward project objectives. An applicant may propose to use funding for case management, supervision and treatment services, and/or the provision and coordination of recovery support services. Courts must ensure that participants are tested periodically for the use of controlled substances, including medical marijuana. Courts must impose graduated sanctions that increase punitive measures, therapeutic measures, or both whenever a participant fails a drug test.

Enhancement projects will support jurisdictions with an existing community court that has been fully operational for at least 1 year as of September 30, 2022. An applicant may propose to use funding to scale up the court program's capacity, enhance court operations to serve a specific population such as veterans, expand or enhance court services, improve the quality and/or intensity of services based on needs assessments, gather data, or complete a program evaluation.

Note: Applicants must attach a fiscal agent memorandum of understanding (MOU) as part of their application. See "Additional Application Components, Memorandum of Understanding Signed by Key Community Court Team Members or by a Designated Agency Representative."

To be able to assess the potential risks and needs of persons to be served in these courts, and to assess and plan for the correct type and level of interventions and services, enhancement applicants should strongly consider formally partnering with a researcher from the outset of the proposed project. These researcher-practitioner partnerships assist with ongoing problem analysis, identification of evidence-based responses, strategic planning of interventions, assessment of implementation, and conducting an impact evaluation. (No more than 20 percent of total grant funds may be used for research/evaluation.) Community courts bring together justice, behavioral and public health, and other community-based practitioners to implement new or promising practices that may not yet have a research base, including the application of evidence-based strategies from other fields, such as health, that have not yet been fully examined in the justice context.

BJA partners with a TTA provider to assist grantees in implementing the program, and the field at large. BJA's TTA partner provides individualized, efficient, and consistent delivery of TTA in order to help grantees accomplish their goals by the end of the project period. BJA and the TTA partners will assess needs and develop training, targeted technical assistance, and tools for the field. This will include ongoing coaching and dialogue, as well as support for peer-to-peer dialogue and training, knowledge diffusion products, grantee learning communities, dissemination of best practices and lessons learned, and a listserv.

To support projects with a research partnership, this work will also be coordinated with BJA's Smart Suite, which invests in the development of researcher-practitioner partnerships that use data, evidence, and innovation to create strategies and interventions that are effective and economical. These data-driven approaches enable jurisdictions to understand the full nature and extent of the crime challenges they are facing and target resources toward their highest priorities. The Smart Suite represents a strategic approach that incorporates more "science" into criminal justice operations by leveraging innovative applications of analysis, technology, and evidence-based practices (EBPs) with the goal of improving performance and effectiveness while containing costs.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Goals

The Community Courts Program supports efforts by state, local, and federally recognized American Indian tribal governments to establish and enhance community courts in their jurisdictions.

Objectives

- Establish or enhance court-based intervention programs to prioritize and expedite the provision of treatment and recovery services to individuals who are frequent users of justice, health, and other services who commit low-level misdemeanor offenses.
- Emphasize alternatives to incarceration by tailoring sentences to each defendant to improve community safety, enhance confidence in justice, and reduce recidivism.
- Build and maximize the capacity of jurisdictions to ensure that all participants are identified, assessed, and referred to services.
- Enhance the use of community services by participants in the community court docket, including case management, housing assistance, and service coordination.
- Developing and maintaining partnerships and collaborations with service providers to enhance the provision of treatment and recovery support services.

- Support the development, enhancement, and translation of research and knowledge of researcher-practitioner partnerships.
- Collect lessons learned and other examples of use to the field at-large from grantees and disseminate via publications, media platforms, and conference presentations.

Deliverables

Category 1: Document that the grantee is ready to commit to a 6-month planning phase followed by an implementation phase that adheres to the requirements of this solicitation and the key community courts principles.

Category 2: Document that the grantee has an operational community court program consistent with the requirements of this solicitation and the key community courts principles.

BJA reserves the right to modify work tasks at any time with reasonable advance notice provided to the awardee prior to execution.

The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that show the completed work's results as discussed in the "Application and Submission Information" section.

Evidence-Based Programs or Practices

OJP strongly encourages the use of data and evidence in policymaking and program development for criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services. For additional information and resources on evidence-based programs or practices, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities

OJP may conduct or support an evaluation of the programs and activities funded under this solicitation. For additional information, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide section entitled "Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities."

OJP Priority Areas

The Department of Justice is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

1. Priority Considerations Supporting Executive Order 13985, Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government

Consistent with this Executive Order, the term "underserved community" refers to a population sharing a particular characteristic, as well as a geographic community, that has been systematically denied a full opportunity to participate in aspects of economic, social, and civic life or whose members have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality. Such communities include, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders.

In support of Executive Order 13985, OJP will:

A. Give priority consideration to applications that include project(s) that will promote racial equity and the removal of barriers to access and opportunity for communities that have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality, when making award decisions.

To receive this consideration, the applicant must describe how the proposed project(s) will address potential inequities and barriers to equal opportunity, and/or contribute to greater access to services for underserved and historically marginalized populations.

B. Give priority consideration to applicants that can demonstrate that their capabilities and competencies for implementing their proposed project(s) are enhanced because the applicant (or at least one proposed subrecipient that will receive at least 30 percent of the requested award funding, as demonstrated in the budget worksheet and budget narrative) identifies as a culturally specific organization. To receive this additional priority consideration, applicants must describe how being a culturally specific organization (or funding the culturally specific subrecipient organization(s)) will enhance their ability to implement the proposed project(s) and should also specify which culturally specific populations are intended or expected to be served or to have their needs addressed under the proposed project(s).

Culturally specific organizations are defined for purposes of this solicitation as private nonprofit or tribal organizations whose primary purpose as a whole is to provide culturally specific services to, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and/or Pacific Islanders.

2. In addition, OJP will give priority consideration, if applicable, to applicants that demonstrate that the individuals who are intended to benefit from the requested grant reside in high-poverty areas or persistent-poverty counties.

To receive priority consideration under the poverty priority, the applicant must provide information to demonstrate that the individuals who are intended to benefit from the requested grant reside in high-poverty areas or persistent-poverty counties. For purposes of this priority consideration, the term “high-poverty area” means any census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20 percent as measured by the 2013–2017 5-year data series available from the American Community Survey of the Census Bureau (applicants may search by census tract at <https://www.census.gov/acs/www/data/data-tables-and-tools/narrative-profiles/2017/>) and the term “persistent-poverty counties” means any county that has had 20 percent or more of its population living in poverty over the past 30 years, as measured by the 1990 and 2000 decennial censuses and the most recent Small Area Income and Poverty Estimates (applicants may search by county at <https://www.census.gov/data/tables/time-series/dec/census-poverty.html> and <https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/saipe.html>).

Note: Addressing these priority areas is one of many factors that OJP considers in making funding decisions. Receiving priority consideration for one or more priority areas is not a guarantee of an award.

Category 2: Up to 4

Continuation Funding Intent

BJA may, in certain cases, provide additional funding in future years to awards made under this solicitation through continuation awards. OJP will consider, among other factors, OJP's strategic priorities, a recipient's overall management of the award, and the award-funded work's progress when making continuation award decisions.

Availability of Funds

This solicitation, and awards (if any are made) under this solicitation, are subject to the availability of appropriated funds and to any modifications or additional requirements that may be imposed by the agency or by law. In addition, nothing in this solicitation is intended to, and does not, create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law or in equity by any party against the United States; its departments, agencies, or entities; its officers, employees, or agents; or any other person.

Types of Awards

BJA expects to make awards under this solicitation as grants. See the "Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements" section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for a brief discussion of important statutes, regulations, and award conditions that apply to many (or in some cases, all) OJP grants.

Financial Management and System of Internal Controls

Award recipients and subrecipients (including recipients or subrecipients that are pass-through entities) must, as described in the Part 200 Uniform Requirements as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.303, comply with standards for financial and program management. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget Information

Cost Associated with Recovery Support Services (if applicable)

Applicants are encouraged to provide recovery support services, that include transitional or recovery housing and peer recovery support service, to active participants in their drug court programs. No more than 30 percent of the total budget may be used for these services. For more information on recovery support services, visit: https://ndcrc.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/01/Examples\_and\_Definitions\_of\_Recovery\_Support\_Services.pdf.

The budget must explicitly describe how the proposed budget items directly apply to the program design and how they will assist the applicant in meeting the program objectives. In addition to allowable costs identified in the DOJ Grants Financial Guide, award funds may not be used for the following:

- Prizes, rewards, entertainment, trinkets, or any other monetary incentives
- Client stipends
- Gift cards
- Vehicles
- Food and beverages

Digital Trust

Technological devices, artificial intelligence, predictive analytics, and other data-driven solutions ("Technological Enhancements") are increasingly used to augment crime reduction strategies and efforts. Care must be taken to assess and address any potential harm that could be activated by these solutions to ensure privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties are protected. Applicants proposing to utilize grant funds to support technological enhancements directly or via training and technical assistance may receive priority consideration if their proposal addresses the tenants of digital trust such as:

- How the technology will be carefully implemented through training of personnel and the setting and enforcement of policies governing its use to ensure that it contributes to positive outcomes for public safety, the community and/or the criminal justice system.

- How the applicant will safeguard privacy, civil rights, and civil liberties throughout the duration of the project period.

Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement

This solicitation requires a 25 percent cash or in-kind match. Federal funds awarded under this solicitation may not cover more than 75 percent of the total costs of the project being funded. An applicant must identify the source of the 25 percent non-federal portion of the total project costs and how it will use match funds. If a successful applicant’s proposed match exceeds the required match amount, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit. (“Match” funds may be used only for purposes that would be allowable for the federal funds.) Recipients must satisfy this match requirement with a cash or in-kind match. The formula for calculating match is:

$$\frac{\text{Federal Award Amount}}{\text{Federal Share Percentage}} = \text{Adjusted (Total) Project Costs}$$

Required Recipient’s Share Percentage x Adjusted Project Cost = Required Match

Example: 75 percent/25 percent match requirement: For a federal award amount of $350,000, calculate match as follows:

$$\frac{$350,000}{75\%} = $466,667 \quad 25\% \times $466,667 = $116,667 \text{ match}$$

See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information on this match requirement. For step-by-step instructions for entering match amounts in the budget, see the Budget Summary Match Guide.

Unmanned Aircraft Systems

The use of BJA grant funds for unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), including unmanned aircraft vehicles (UAV), and all accompanying accessories to support UAS or UAV, is unallowable.

Pre-agreement Costs (also known as Pre-award Costs)

See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide information on Pre-agreement Costs (also known as Pre-award Costs).

Limitation on Use of Award Funds for Employee Compensation: Waiver

See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide information on the Limitation on Use of Award Funds for Employee Compensation; Waiver.

Prior Approval, Planning, and Reporting of Conference/Meeting/Training Costs

Application Review Information

Review Criteria

a. Merit Review Criteria

Applications that meet the basic minimum requirements will be evaluated by peer reviewers on how the proposed project/program addresses the following criteria:

1. Description of the Issue (20 percent) — Evaluate the applicant's understanding of the program/issue to be addressed.
2. Project Design and Implementation (40 percent) — Evaluate the adequacy of the proposal, including the goals, objectives, timelines, milestones, and deliverables.
3. Capabilities and Competencies (20 percent) — Evaluate the administrative and technical capacity of the applicant to successfully accomplish the goals and objectives.
4. Plan for Collecting the Data Required for this Solicitation's Performance Measures (15 percent) — Evaluate the applicant's understanding of the performance data reporting requirements and the plan for collecting the required data.
5. Budget (5 percent) — Evaluate for completeness, cost effectiveness, and allowability (e.g., reasonable, allocable, and necessary for project activities).

b. Other Review Criteria/Factors

Other important considerations for BJA include geographic diversity, strategic priorities (specifically including, but not limited to, those priority areas already mentioned), available funding, past performance, and the extent to which the budget worksheet and budget narrative (web-based form) accurately explain project costs that are reasonable, necessary, and otherwise allowable under federal law and applicable federal cost principles.

Review Process

Applications submitted under this solicitation that meet the basic minimum requirements will be evaluated for technical merit by a peer review panel(s) in accordance with OJP peer review policy and procedures using the review criteria listed above.

OJP screens applications to ensure they meet the basic minimum requirements prior to conducting the peer review. Although specific requirements may vary, the following are common requirements applicable to all OJP solicitations:

- The application must be submitted by an eligible type of applicant.
- The application must request funding within programmatic funding constraints (if applicable).
- The application must be responsive to the scope of the solicitation.
- The application must include all items necessary to meet the basic minimum requirements.

Pursuant to the Part 200 Uniform Requirements, before award decisions are made, OJP also reviews information related to the degree of risk posed by the applicant. Among other things to help assess whether an applicant with one or more prior federal awards has a satisfactory record with respect to performance, integrity, and business ethics, OJP checks whether the applicant is listed in SAM as excluded from receiving a federal award

In addition, if OJP anticipates that an award will exceed $250,000 in federal funds, OJP also must review and consider any information about the applicant that appears in the non-public segment of the integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently, the Federal Awardee Performance and Integrity Information System, FAPIIS).

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency. OJP will consider such comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in FAPIIS, in its assessment of the risk posed by the applicant.

Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General, who may consider not only peer review ratings and BJA recommendations, but also other factors as indicated in this section.
