To advance Executive Order 13929 Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Attorney General determined that all state, local, and university or college law enforcement agencies must be certified by an approved independent credentialing body or have started the certification process, to be eligible for FY 2022 DOJ discretionary grant funding. To become certified, the law enforcement agency must meet two mandatory conditions: (1) the agency's use-of-force policies adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and (2) the agency's use-of-force policies prohibit chokeholds except in situations where use of deadly force is allowed by law. The certification requirement also applies to law enforcement agencies receiving DOJ discretionary grant funding through a subaward. For detailed information on this certification requirement, please visit <https://cops.usdoj.gov/SafePolicingEO> to access the Standards for Certification on Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Implementation Fact Sheet, and the List of Designated Independent Credentialing Bodies.

All recipients and subrecipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee.

BJA will consider applications under which two or more entities would carry out the federal award; however, only one entity may be the applicant. Any others must be proposed as subrecipients (subgrantees). For additional information on subawards, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Program Description

Overview

OJP is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community. The Community-based Approaches to Prevent and Address Hate Crimes Program supports community-based organizations (CBOs) and civil rights organizations to develop comprehensive approaches to addressing hate crimes. Approaches under this program should be designed to (1) prevent hate crimes; (2) promote community awareness, resiliency, preparedness, and healing; (3) increase victim reporting of hate incidents; and (4) improve responses to hate crimes.

Statutory Authority

Any awards under this solicitation would be made under the Department of Justice Appropriations Act, 2022 (Pub. L. No. 117-103, 136 Stat. 49, 127).

Specific Information

Hate crimes (sometimes called bias-motivated crimes) are criminal offenses motivated by some form of bias toward a victim on the basis of their perceived or actual race, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, or disability.

In response to the recent increase in hate crimes, particularly involving Asian Americans, historically Black colleges and universities, and houses of worship, BJA is seeking applications to employ a comprehensive and community-based approach to prevent and address hate crimes. Funding under this program may be used to support public awareness campaigns, educational and outreach programs, trauma-informed services and supports, and preparedness trainings or planning. Funding can also be used by CBOs and civil rights organizations to work collaboratively to offer or improve trainings, policies, and procedures for law enforcement and prosecution agencies in responding to hate crimes, including awareness and skills that can build skills to better support victims in responding to, identifying, reporting, investigating, and prosecuting hate crimes and incidents.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Justice Statistics' (BJS) National Crime Victimization Survey (NCVS):

- In 2019, there was 1 violent hate crime victimization per 1,000 persons age 12 or older.
- During the 5-year aggregate period of 2015–2019, nearly 90 percent of all hate crimes captured by NCVS were violent crimes, while 10 percent were property crimes.
- A bias against the victim's race, ethnicity, or national origin was the most common motivation for nonfatal violent hate crimes during 2015–2019.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) reported the following hate crimes in calendar year 2020:

- There were 8,052 single-bias incidents involving 11,126 victims.
- A percent distribution of victims by bias type shows that 61.8 percent of victims were targeted because of a bias based on race/ethnicity/ancestry, 20.0 percent were victimized because of a bias based on sexual orientation, 13.3 percent were targeted because of a bias based on religion, 2.7 percent were targeted because of a bias based on gender identity, 1.4 percent were victimized because of a bias based on disability, and 0.7 percent were victimized because of a bias based on gender.
- Of the 11,129 hate crime offenses reported, 69.6 percent were crimes against persons, 28.2 percent were crimes against property, and 2.2 percent were crimes against society.

Moreover, there has been a precipitous increase in hate crimes against Asian Americans. Recent research found that anti-Asian hate crimes reported to police in 16 of America's largest cities and counties rose 164 percent in the first quarter of 2021 in comparison to the first quarter of 2020. The 2021 data accounted for over 20 percent of all FBI-reported hate crimes in 2019, covering about 9 percent of the nation's population. In North America, larger cities with a higher percentage of Asian residents that also have hate crime units, victim outreach, and a lengthy history of data collection were those most likely to show higher numerical and percentage increases. Also, 2021's first quarter increase follows a historic surge in anti-Asian hate crime that started in 2020, with anti-Asian hate crime in 16 of America's largest cities increasing 149 percent in 2020. The first spike occurred in March and April of 2020, concurrent with a rise in COVID cases and negative stereotyping of Asians related to the pandemic. In addition, in 2021 and 2022, there have been a number of attacks on houses of worship and threats against historically Black colleges and universities.

The federal government has an important role to play in addressing hate crimes through collaboration with state, local, tribal, community-based, and civil rights-focused partners. Eliminating hate crimes and bias-motivated violence from communities and the country is one of DOJ's highest priorities. Its Hate Crimes Enforcement and Prevention Initiative is charged with coordinating DOJ's efforts to eradicate hate crimes in part by facilitating training, outreach, and education to law enforcement agencies and the public at the federal, state, local, and tribal levels. This work is collaborative and includes DOJ's Civil Rights Division, the Community Relations Service, U.S. Attorneys' Offices (USAOs), the FBI, the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services, and other OJP program offices such as the Office for Victims of Crime and BJS. For more information on the agencies' work and opportunities to build on this work, visit: www.justice.gov/hatecrimes.

This funding is designed to support CBOs and civil rights organizations in addressing hate crimes and to assist victims and communities that are facing an increase in these crimes. The Community-based Approaches to Prevent and Address Hate Crimes Program seeks to leverage the unique and critical power of community institutions to better protect communities, empower victims and witnesses of hate crimes to report them, and build and strengthen foundations of trust and understanding between law enforcement and the public.

Hate crimes have a devastating effect beyond the harm inflicted on any one victim. They reverberate through families, communities, and the entire nation as others fear that they too may be threatened, attacked, or forced from their homes because of what they look like, who they are, where they worship, who they love, or whether they have a disability. Community institutions and civil rights organizations are pillars of the community and play a critical role in quelling fear, sharing information, delivering services, particularly culturally specific and language-accessible, and improving safety for impacted individuals and communities.

In addition, hate crimes can be more violent and involve greater victim injury as compared with other victimizations, yet they are substantially underreported. Victim reluctance to contact law enforcement may arise from perceptions of police bias, distrust of law enforcement or the criminal justice system, or barriers such as language or concerns about immigration status. As trusted pillars of the community, CBOs and civil rights organizations are well suited to address gaps in existing services and establish trust between victims and law enforcement.

Applicants will be expected to work with a broad range of stakeholders to develop a multifaceted approach to preventing and responding to hate crimes. Like other crimes, the vast majority of hate crimes in the United States are investigated under state law and prosecuted by local, state, and tribal authorities. Applicants may propose projects to work collaboratively with their local law enforcement and prosecution agencies to build capacity and skills of their staff in supporting hate crime victims, including engagement, reporting hate crimes, and support in the cases. This could include applicants' review of current trainings, practices, and policies related to hate crimes and community engagement. In an effort to maximize the impact of hate crimes prevention and response efforts, applicants are encouraged to partner with local agencies receiving funding under the Matthew Shepard and James Byrd, Jr. Hate Crimes Program. This program supports state, local, and tribal law enforcement and prosecution agencies in their outreach to and education of the public, victims, and their staff and partners on hate crimes. It also supports the investigation and prosecution of hate crimes.

Applicants may also consider partnering with federal agencies such as the Community Relations Service, the Department of Homeland Security, and the relevant field office of the FBI, as well as the civil rights coordinator in their USAO districts. To effectively approach this work, applicants should develop strategies in coordination with additional nongovernmental partners or task forces that can help to address the concerns and needs of all affected parties. This includes strategies to increase trust and reporting of incidents to law enforcement and expand outreach to and education of the public and those persons and groups disproportionately impacted by these crimes. BJA also encourages partnerships with schools, colleges, and universities in the applicant's jurisdiction as part of these strategies to build on OJP's programs to prevent and address school-based violence, training on restorative justice approaches, and funding to support victims of hate crimes.

Note that BJA recently selected a team of training and technical assistance (TTA) providers to assist grantees and the field at large. This TTA will include individualized, efficient, and consistent delivery in order to help Community-based Approaches to Prevent and Address Hate Crimes Program grantees accomplish their goals by the end of the project period. BJA and the TTA partners will assess grantees' needs and develop training, targeted technical assistance, and tools. This will include ongoing coaching and dialogue, as well as support for peer-to-peer dialogue and training, knowledge diffusion products, grantee learning communities, dissemination of best practices and lessons learned, and a listserv.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Goals

- Support comprehensive community-based approaches to addressing hate crimes that promote community awareness and preparedness, increase victim reporting, and improve prevention efforts and responses to hate crimes.

Objectives

- Build or enhance partnerships and coordination among community-based organizations, justice agencies, educational institutions, houses of worship, and other stakeholder organizations to develop local strategies for education, outreach, prevention, preparedness, and improved responses to hate crimes.
- Establish effective outreach, education, and engagement strategies that meet the specific needs of the groups or populations being served such as language access services, culturally specific materials, or services and accommodations under the American Disabilities Act.
- Develop comprehensive approaches that expand and enhance strategies — including tools, policies, and procedures — to prevent and respond to hate crimes.
- Develop activities that create a shared sense of empathy and a community environment that will not tolerate hate.
- Promote trauma-informed services and outreach materials that foster community resiliency and address the specific needs of hate crime victims.

Deliverables

Deliverables will include:

- Convene or enhance a task force or collaborative working group (this may be an existing group) that meets regularly throughout the project period to lead the project, identify and address service gaps and barriers, and use funding for focused strategies to support those who are at the highest risk for experiencing hate crimes.
- Develop a project action plan that outlines the specific approach that will be taken to address hate crimes. The action plan must be developed in coordination with the program's TTA provider and submitted and approved by BJA prior to implementation. BJA, the TTA provider, and the grantee will use this action plan to guide and track progress on the project's objectives.

Successfully implement the action plan resulting in outreach materials, awareness campaigns, educational programs, or services that are developed working collaboratively with BJA staff members and the TTA partner.

- Develop resource guides, trainings, public awareness campaigns, or other education and outreach materials developed for both the public and/or law enforcement. Materials should be translated as appropriate and distributed broadly.
- Document efforts to share lessons learned following the project's implementation, including a final report. This information will be publicly shared to assist the field.

The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that show the completed work's results, as discussed in the "Application and Submission Information" section.

OJP strongly encourages the use of data and evidence in policymaking and program development for criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services. For additional information and resources on evidence-based programs or practices, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities

OJP may conduct or support an evaluation of the programs and activities funded under this solicitation. For additional information, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide section entitled "Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities."

OJP Priority Areas

The Department of Justice is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

1. Priority Considerations Supporting Executive Order 13985, Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government

Consistent with this Executive Order, the term "underserved community" refers to a population sharing a particular characteristic, as well as a geographic community, that has been systematically denied a full opportunity to participate in aspects of economic, social, and civic life or whose members have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality. Such communities include, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders.

In support of Executive Order 13985, OJP will:

A. Give priority consideration to applications that include project(s) that will promote racial equity and the removal of barriers to access and opportunity for communities that have been historically underserved, marginalized, and adversely affected by inequality, when making award decisions.

To receive this consideration, the applicant must describe how the proposed project(s) will address potential inequities and barriers to equal opportunity, and/or contribute to greater access to services for underserved and historically marginalized populations.

B. Give priority consideration to applicants that can demonstrate that their capabilities and competencies for implementing their proposed project(s) are enhanced because the applicant (or at least one proposed subrecipient that will receive at least 30 percent of the requested award funding, as demonstrated in the budget worksheet and budget narrative) identifies as a culturally specific organization. To receive this additional priority consideration, applicants must describe how being a culturally specific organization (or funding the culturally specific subrecipient organization(s)) will enhance their ability to implement the proposed project(s) and should also specify which culturally specific populations are intended or expected to be served or to have their needs addressed under the proposed project(s).

Culturally specific organizations are defined for purposes of this solicitation as private nonprofit or tribal organizations whose primary purpose as a whole is to provide culturally specific services to, among others, Black people, Hispanics and Latino/a/e people, Native American and other Indigenous peoples of North America (including Alaska Natives, Eskimos, and Aleuts), Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and/or Pacific Islanders.

2. Priority Consideration related to this program: BJA will give priority consideration to applications which seek to build on existing projects under the Matthew Shepard and James Byrd, Jr. Hate Crimes Program or which complement a proposed strategy under the FY 2022 solicitation. The application must clearly articulate how the proposed activities and partnership will complement the project funded or sought under the Matthew Shepard and James Byrd, Jr. Hate Crimes Program application.

Note: Addressing these priority areas is one of many factors that OJP considers in making funding decisions. Receiving priority consideration for one or more priority areas is not a guarantee of an award.

Applicants proposing to utilize grant funds to support technological enhancements directly or via training and technical assistance may receive priority consideration if their proposal addresses the tenants of digital trust such as:

- How the technology will be carefully implemented through training of personnel and the setting and enforcement of policies governing its use to ensure that it contributes to positive outcomes for public safety, the community and/or the criminal justice system.

OJP will require each successful applicant to submit regular performance data that show the completed work's results. The performance data directly relate to the goals, objectives, and deliverables identified in the "Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables" discussion. To be considered timely, the full application must be submitted in JustGrants by the JustGrants application

Experiencing Unforeseen Technical Issues

An applicant that experiences unforeseen SAM.gov, Grants.gov, or JustGrants technical issues beyond its control that prevent application submission by the deadline must demonstrate all efforts in requesting technical support in order to submit an application by the deadline. Technical support is available via phone and email to the applicable SAM.gov, Grants.gov, or JustGrants support centers or service desks in which an applicant received a ticket number for resolution. If an applicant misses a deadline due to unforeseen technical difficulties, the applicant may request a waiver to submit an application after the deadline. Note: If an applicant does not submit all the required Grants.gov forms by the Grants.gov deadline, the applicant will not be able to proceed to the JustGrants portion of the application process.

An applicant experiencing technical difficulties with the following systems must contact the associated support desk indicated below to report the technical issue and receive a tracking number:

- Grants.gov — Contact the Grants.gov Customer Support Hotline.
- SAM.gov — Contact the SAM Help Desk \(Federal Service Desk\).

An applicant requesting a waiver to submit a late application must document their request for technical assistance in an email to the OJP Response Center at grants@ncjrs.gov within 24 hours after the application deadline to request approval to submit their application after the deadline. Waiver requests to submit after the submission deadline must:

Application Review Information

Review Criteria

a. Merit Review Criteria

Applications that meet the basic minimum requirements will be evaluated by peer reviewers on how the proposed project/program addresses the following criteria:

1. Description of the Issue (25 percent) — Evaluate the applicant’s understanding of the program/issue to be addressed.
2. Project Design and Implementation (30 percent) — Evaluate the adequacy of the proposal, including the goals, objectives, timelines, milestones, and deliverables.
3. Capabilities and Competencies (30 percent) — Evaluate the administrative and technical capacity of the applicant to successfully accomplish the goals and objectives.

4. Plan for Collecting the Data Required for this Solicitation's Performance Measures (5 percent) — Evaluate the applicant's understanding of the performance data reporting requirements and the plan for collecting the required data.
5. Budget (10 percent) — Evaluate for completeness, cost effectiveness, and allowability (e.g., reasonable, allocable, and necessary for project activities).

b. Other Review Criteria/Factors

Other important considerations for BJA include geographic diversity, strategic priorities (specifically including, but not limited to, those priority areas already mentioned), available funding, past performance, areas experiencing significant increases in hate crimes, and the extent to which the budget worksheet and budget narrative (web-based form) accurately explain project costs that are reasonable, necessary, and otherwise allowable under federal law and applicable federal cost principles. BJA will give special consideration to applications that propose coordination with projects either proposed or previously awarded under the Matthew Shepard and James Byrd, Jr. Hate Crimes Program

Review Process

Applications submitted under this solicitation that meet the basic minimum requirements will be evaluated for technical merit by a peer review panel(s) in accordance with OJP peer review policy and procedures using the review criteria listed above

OJP screens applications to ensure they meet the basic minimum requirements prior to conducting the peer review. Although specific requirements may vary, the following are common requirements applicable to all OJP solicitations:

- The application must be submitted by an eligible type of applicant.
- The application must request funding within programmatic funding constraints (if applicable).
- The application must be responsive to the scope of the solicitation.
- The application must include all items necessary to meet the basic minimum requirements.

Pursuant to the Part 200 Uniform Requirements, before award decisions are made, OJP also reviews information related to the degree of risk posed by the applicant. Among other things to help assess whether an applicant with one or more prior federal awards has a satisfactory record with respect to performance, integrity, and business ethics, OJP checks whether the applicant is listed in SAM as excluded from receiving a federal award.

In addition, if OJP anticipates that an award will exceed $250,000 in federal funds, OJP also must review and consider any information about the applicant that appears in the non-public segment of the integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently, the Federal Awardee Performance and Integrity Information System, FAPIIS).

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency. OJP will consider such comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in FAPIIS, in its assessment of the risk posed by the applicant.

Absent explicit statutory authorization or written delegation of authority to the contrary, all final award decisions will be made by the Assistant Attorney General, who may consider not only peer review ratings and BJA recommendations, but also other factors as indicated in this section.
