Class Schedule

This new and improved implementer's course is designed to provide 17 hours of training, presented over three days.

When: November 29–December 1, 2006
 Wednesday 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
 Thursday 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
 Friday 8:30 a.m. to Noon

Where: George Washington University
 Classroom 101
 20101 Academic Way
 Ashburn, VA 20147

New Class Curriculum

This is a newly designed training class that is geared towards NIEM implementers. Class participants will learn about key and foundational concepts regarding the use of NIEM. Lessons presented on the first day will provide terminology and introductory information. This foundation will be reinforced by a technical walk-through of a technical scenario.

On the second day, reference architecture and practical implementation techniques will be the focus. The class participants will do actual hands-on work by participating in sessions that will demonstrate different justice domains. During the breakout sessions, participants will learn how to build Information Exchange Package Documentation (IEPD) in a smaller group setting. A team of instructors will be provided to illustrate IEPD methodology and to answer individual questions. Various tools and techniques, such as UML modeling, mapping, Wayfayer, and Schema Subset Generation Tool, will also be covered.

On the third day, participants will work on IEPDs using the knowledge gained in the first part of the class. The training session will then wrap up with completion of the IEPD development. In addition, the instructors will spend time bringing all of the components of the training together. Each day, homework assignments and exercises will be conducted. It is strongly encouraged to bring a laptop for class work.
