Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program (CDFA #16.745)

Overview of the Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program

The Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program seeks to increase public safety through innovative cross-system collaboration for individuals with mental illness who come into contact with the criminal or juvenile justice systems. BJA is seeking joint applications from eligible applicants seeking to plan, implement, or expand an adult or juvenile collaboration program. This program is funded through the Mentally Ill Offender Treatment and Crime Reduction Act of 2004 (MIOTCRA) (Public Law 108-414).

Application Deadline

The due date for applying for funding under this announcement is June 2, 2006.

Eligibility

Applicants are limited to states, units of local government, Indian tribes, and tribal organizations. BJA will only accept joint applications; each application must demonstrate that the proposed project will be managed jointly by a mental health agency and a unit of government with responsibility for criminal justice activities.

Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program-Specific Information

The Justice and Mental Health Collaboration Program will increase public safety by facilitating collaboration among the criminal justice, juvenile justice, and mental health and substance abuse treatment systems to increase access to services for offenders with mental illness. The Program encourages early intervention for system-involved individuals with mental illness; provides new and existing mental health courts with various treatment options; maximizes diversion opportunities for nonviolent offenders with mental illness and co-occurring disorders; promotes training for justice and treatment professionals on criminal justice processes and mental health and substance abuse issues; and facilitates communication, collaboration, and the delivery of support services among justice professionals, treatment and related service providers, and governmental partners.

BJA supports an intervention model proposed by the National GAINS Center and the Ohio Criminal Justice Coordinating Center of Excellence. The Sequential Intercept Model identifies “points of interception” where an intervention can be made to keep an individual with mental illness from entering or moving further into the justice system. Applicants should also review Public Law 108-414, as it defines terms used in this solicitation, such as “diversion,” “alternative prosecution and sentencing,” and “preliminarily qualified offenders.”

Award Categories

Justice and Mental Health Collaboration grants are available in one of the following three categories. Each category requires a joint application with a mental health agency and unit of government responsible for criminal and/or juvenile justice activities.

CATEGORY I: PLANNING

Grant maximum: $50,000. Project period: 12 months.

Category I applicants will design a strategic, collaborative plan to initiate systemic change for the identification and treatment of offenders with mental illness. Key to the planning category is the development of an effective collaboration representing support from all levels of government, justice, mental health and treatment services, transportation, housing, advocates, consumers, and family members. This collaboration will ultimately form the basis for a problem-solving model, or strategic plan, to intercept individuals from the system at the earliest point possible while promoting public safety. Category I grantees will receive intensive technical assistance from BJA throughout the grant period to support their planning efforts.

CATEGORY II: PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

Grant maximum: $250,000. Project period: 30 months.

Category II applicants will complete an already-initiated strategic plan for their mental health collaboration, and then begin implementation of the plan during the project period. Applicants in this category will submit their draft plan as part of the application review process. While plans need not be final, they should reflect substantive thought and activity toward planning a mental health collaboration. Approximately six months of the total project period should be used to complete details on plans, with the remaining months used to begin implementation of the plan. Category II grantees will receive approval from BJA to begin the implementation phase of their grant once they have successfully met all planning performance measures, and will receive intensive technical assistance from BJA during the planning period of the grant.

Category III: IMPLEMENTATION AND EXPANSION

Grant maximum: $200,000. Project period: 24 months.

Category III applicants will implement—and may expand—their well-established collaboration plan. Implementation and expansion grants can support mental health courts and diversion/alternative prosecution and sentencing programs, crisis intervention teams, and treatment accountability services; specialized training for justice and treatment services professionals; service delivery for collateral services such as housing; and corrections, transitional, and reentry services to create or expand mental health and support services. Category III funding can be used to support limited expansion planning, if the planning is implemented within the project period.

Match Requirement

A minimum 20 percent match is required; federal funding for this project may not exceed 80 percent of the total project costs by a state, unit of local government, Indian tribe, or tribal organization. Match may be cash or in-kind.

Performance Measures

To assist in fulfilling the Department's responsibilities under the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA), P.L. 103-62, applicants who receive funding under this solicitation must provide data that measures the results of their work.
