

Security

There are many factors that go into data security, most of which are technical matters outside of the scope of departmental policies. However, some departments have laid out procedures to prevent officers from tampering with or improperly releasing video.

“Does viewing require allowed purpose?” “Is viewing logged?” and “Is permission required to copy video?”: The question of who is allowed to watch the videos is not limited to the issue of public access. The history of dashboard cameras in police cars includes instances of videos being watched and distributed by police officers as entertainment. A system that limits when a video can be viewed or copied, and logs any activity with a username, can help prevent such abuses. We have noted the circumstances under which an officer can view the video, whether viewing is logged, and whether permission is required to copy it.

City	Does Viewing Require Allowed Purpose?	Is Viewing Logged?	Is Permission Required to Copy Video?
Atlanta (pilot)	Not specified	Not specified	Not specified
Austin	Viewing allowed to ensure the system is working; to write a report, review evidence, or investigate an act of employee conduct; or as part of an official investigation.	Not specified	No, though making personal copies is prohibited.
Baltimore (pilot)	Viewing must be for law enforcement purposes and be authorized in writing by the Police Commissioner or designee.	Yes	All access to video must be authorized in writing by the Police Commissioner or designee.
Charlotte, NC	Viewing allowed only for “approved departmental purposes” such as writing reports and auditing system.	Yes	Chief of Police must give permission. Exceptions: the court liaison unit can make copies for the district attorney or court, and the homicide unit can copy for investigations with permission from sergeant.

City	Does Viewing Require Allowed Purpose?	Is Viewing Logged?	Is Permission Required to Copy Video?
Chicago (pilot)	No restrictions if viewing own video or if a supervisor. If viewing someone else's video, permission needed from supervisor.	Yes	Yes
Dallas	Accessing recordings without proper approval is prohibited, but no details on when or why approval is granted.	Not specified	Yes
Denver	Viewing allowed for "legitimate law enforcement or administrative purposes." In general, officers can see their own video.	Not specified	Yes. Lead investigators can make a single copy to attach to a case file and evidence may be shared with the District and City Attorney's Offices upon written request. Other copies require written permission from the Chief of Police.
Ferguson	No	Not specified	No permission required to copy for administrative review or to book as evidence. Permission required from Chief of Police to copy for an external agency.
Las Vegas	Viewing allowed for conducting investigations, completing reports, prior to testimony, and providing a statement in internal investigations.	Yes	Sheriff or designee must give permission in writing.
Los Angeles	No	Not specified	"Officers shall not copy... recordings except as authorized by law or Department policy."
Mesa, AZ (pilot)	Recordings should only be accessed for "official law enforcement purposes," which are not listed.	Not specified	Recordings should only be copied for "official law enforcement purposes." No permission process is specified.
Minneapolis (pilot)	An officer may access own video for "essential functions of his/her job" or to "defend against	Not specified	Officer must submit request form to the Crime Lab Video Forensics section for a allegations of substandard performance or misconduct.” Other access requests must go through public records process.		copy.

City	Does Viewing Require Allowed Purpose?	Is Viewing Logged?	Is Permission Required to Copy Video?
New Orleans	Viewing is prohibited other than for “official law enforcement purposes.”	Not specified	Not specified, though copying is prohibited other than for “official law enforcement purposes.”
New York (pilot)	Not specified	Not specified	Yes
Oakland, CA	Officers can view their own recordings and supervisors can view officer recordings unless prohibited by policy.	Not specified if logged by system, but personnel shall document reason for access.	No. Authorized personnel can make copies but must document the reason.
Orlando	Viewing allowed for case-related purposes, use of force, formal or informal complaints, legal review, pursuant to established policy, or as directed by the Chief of Police.	Not specified	Chief of Police or designee must give permission.
Phoenix, AZ (pilot)	No restrictions on officer viewing own video or subordinate’s video.	Not specified	Copying recordings without the approval of the Police Chief or his designee is prohibited, but no permission process is specified.
Rialto, CA	Once uploaded, “personnel may view their own audio/video data.” In addition, “an employee” (which employee/s not specified) may view files for criminal investigations & reports, before testimony, or before providing a statement pursuant to an administrative inquiry.	Yes	Permission required from the Chief of Police, unless purpose of copying is to book as evidence.

City	Does Viewing Require Allowed Purpose?	Is Viewing Logged?	Is Permission Required to Copy Video?
San Diego	No restrictions on viewing own video. For general viewing, there is a list of acceptable administrative purposes.	Yes	Unauthorized copying is prohibited, but no permission process is specified.
San Jose (pilot)	Viewing allowed for criminal investigations, preparing reports or testimony, training, and preparation of an Internal Affairs interview. Other reasons require permission of the Chief of Police.	Yes	Unauthorized copying is prohibited, but no permission process is specified.
Seattle (pilot)	Viewing allowed for complaints, investigations, FOIA requests, performance appraisal, audits, and other listed purposes.	Yes	Captain must give permission in writing.
Tampa	Not specified	Yes	Chief of Police must give permission.
Tucson	Viewing allowed for investigations, reports, and preparation for hearings, depositions, and trials.	Not specified	No permission required for listed purposes; other copying requires supervisor approval.
Washington, D.C.	“[M]embers shall not view recordings for anything other than official law enforcement purposes.”	Yes	An official must give permission in writing.

Model Policies

Org	Does Viewing Require Allowed Purpose?	Is Viewing Logged?	Is Permission Required to Copy Video?
ACLU Model Statute	Not specified	Not specified	Not specified
International Association of Chiefs of Police	Not specified	Not specified	Written approval required.
Police Executive Research Forum	Yes	Yes	Not specified